C. E. Jackson Will Not Side-step Any Duty or Responsibility

C. E. JACKSON

To the Voters of Santa Ana—In running for the office of City Marshal, I believe you are entitled to know how I stand upon the one big issue involved in the selection of a city marshal.

That issue, as I see it, is LAW ENFORCEMENT.

And I mean Law Enforcement against all alike. I don't believe anybody should be immune. If a law is no good, the people can change it if they want to, but while it is law, it would be my job, if elected marshal, to enforce it to the letter.

My record as Constable and Sheriff is assurance that I will keep my word.

Statement By George McPhee

As now seems to be the open season for campaign statements, I feel it incumbent to answer a number of inquiries of friends as well as to state a few facts to those who are strangers to myself.

My name is George McPhee. My occupation for the last fourteen years has been Sealer of Weights and Measures of Orange County. I have also served as the councilman representing the Fourth Ward for twelve years. I have been a citizen of this city for 30 years.

I am now a candidate for re-election. I have given my best efforts toward the efficient administration of the city's affairs. The matter of keeping the expenses of the government within the allotted tax money has always been my aim. Necessarily, in following this policy I have created enemies as well as friends.

Nevertheless I base my candidacy on the same platform as in the past, which is:

To keep Santa Ana a clean, desirable place to live.

To bar those places which contribute to the delinquency of our youth, and especially the Sunday closing of such resorts.

Also the most economic handling of the tax money placed under the jurisdiction of the council, consistent with the welfare of the city as a whole.

To the above ideals I am committed and I point to my record during twelve years in office as positive proof that my announced future policy is only consistent with my past.

Yours Truly,

George McPhee

VOTE FOR THE BUSINESS MEN'S CANDIDATE FOR BOARD OF EDUCATION

A TICKET OF FIVE

Because there will be not less than $1,500,000 spent for Santa Ana school expansion in the next four years, in addition to current expenditures for operation, Santa Ana should select five capable business men to handle the affairs of the schools.

Business Experience Educational Experience

The factors having to do with educational understanding are very important.

In the "Business Men's Ticket" there are three men who graduated from high schools of Orange county, two from our own Santa Ana high school and one from the Orange Union high school. Three are university graduates.

One of the five, C. F. Smith, is a member of the present board and has a record for conservative business judgment and school financing.

SHERIFF POURS OUT LIQUOR AS CROWDS WATCH

Five hundred gallons of confiscated liquor, which had fallen into the hands of the sheriff during the past several months in numerous raids and captures, yesterday found its way into a manhole, located in the front yard of the court house.

The pouring out of the liquor was a part of the spring house-cleaning the jail is getting at this time. Orlo Moncrief, jailer, has had a crew of men cleaning out the jail for the past three days. The liquor poured out yesterday was done under the supervision of Sheriff Sam Jernigan and Deputy Sheriff F. W. Howard. Scores of sacks, containing bottles, were piled up high on the court house lawn, while more than 100 curious citizens stood by and watched the trickle of it as it was dumped into the sewer.

All kinds of liquor made up the pouring party. There was Scotch, corn, "mule," wine, sake, beer and gin in the hundreds of bottles.

Ira McDowell and his son, Howard McDowell, of Bloomington, Indiana, arrived yesterday to visit the former's father, J. W. McDowell, 602 West Fourth street, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident several weeks ago, and is in the Santa Ana Valley hospital. His condition is reported to be as satisfactory as could be expected, considering the nature of his injuries.

Little Elizabeth May West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. B. West, is spending the week and with her aunt, Mrs. Ada Langford, of Pasadena.

Mrs. A. N. Zerman, 605 South Sycamore street, and her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Winter, 1133 South Garnsey street, returned Thursday from Balboa, where they spent a week.

Mrs. H. MacVicker Smith and Miss Dorothy Smith, 434 South Sycamore street, went to Redlands today for a short visit with friends.

Mrs. Lena Erick, 290 South Olive street, Orange, was a passenger Tuesday on the Union Pacific for Grand Island, Neb.

Mrs. Margaret Allen, of Santa Monica, is a visitor at the home of Mrs. Clara Brucke and her mother, Mrs. Ida Allen, 203 South Sycamore street.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton Palmer, 426 South Sycamore street, motored to Pomona yesterday, accompanying their aunt, Mrs. Myer, who has been visiting them, to her home in that city.

J. E. Drake, 417 East Bishop street, left Wednesday on the Union Pacific for Clarence, Ia.

Mrs. E. E. Richardson, of Los Angeles, a former resident of this city, visited friends here Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Seidel and her sister, Miss Jo Daguerre, were visitors in Los Angeles today.

Mrs. Ed Whitehouse, of 703 Spurgeon street, who has been spending the winter and spring months in Santa Ana and Long Beach, left Wednesday for her home in Youngstown, Ohio.

Mrs. K. A. Loerch and daughter, Esther, are spending the week end in Hollywood.

Dr. K. A. Loerch, Dr. J. J. Jacobs and Alfred Loerch left Thursday on a trip to Imperial valley.

"Boose" Found In Automobile After Wreck

Receiving a report that four Los Angeles newspapermen had been involved in an automobile collision on West Seventeenth street late yesterday, police promptly searched the cars for liquor. They found no John Barleycorn but, in one of the cars, they found John Boose, the driver.

Boose, who received injuries about the head, was taken to his home nearby. He was particular to point out that his name was spelled with an "s", not with a "z". The newspapermen had departed so the police did not learn whether they could spell their names.

FRANK VAUGHN FUND REACHES $586.50 MARK

Today is the last day for mailing in checks to the "Vaughn Fund." Ten days ago, the Register, out of sympathy for Frank Vaughn, state traffic officer, who suffered serious injury in performance of his duty last summer, necessitating the amputation of one of his legs and otherwise crippling him for life, opened its columns for the raising of funds through popular subscription.

The amount of money received to date is far above $500. Monday will be the last day figures on the amount received will be published. Persons who desire to aid this unfortunate officer, who is having a hard time meeting his bills and maintaining his family, are asked to send their checks in immediately.

BRIDEGROOM HELD IN ANAHEIM JAIL

With his preliminary hearing set for next Wednesday, C. F. Wilber, alias Robert P. Booth, a bridegroom of less than two weeks, today was languishing in the Anaheim city jail, following his arrest yesterday on a bad check charge filed by an Anaheim hotel manager.

That Wilber is wanted in Klamath Falls, Ore., on forgery charges, was revealed at his arraignment before City Recorder Eldon Starke this morning, when a telegraphic warrant from Sheriff Hawkins of the Oregon city was read in court.

Wilber's arrest curtailed a honeymoon which began in Oakland. His bride had known him less than a month when they were married, she told police officers.

The arrest took place when Wilber attempted to pay his bill at an Anaheim hotel with a $50 check. The proprietor, R. E. Dewese, became suspicious and had the man arrested on suspicion.

Investigation revealed that the man was traveling under an alias. Bail was set at $1700 by Recorder Starke and in lieu of the amount the bridegroom was placed in a cell.

On April 19th of each year, the anniversary of the death of Lord Byron, there appears in the obituary column of The London Times a notice of his demise that extols him and his work.

Adjournment of 2 State Houses May Be Delayed passage, it was announced by Senator H. C. Nelson, of Eureka. Until the tax bills and the budget are out of the way, the Breed gasoline tax and highway allocation measures and a whole flock of special appropriations cannot be considered, under ruling of the attorney general.

Tax Bills Most Important
Transcending all other bills in importance, however, are the tax measures, which, unless passed, will mean a revenue loss of approximately $12,000,000 to the state. Question of state ownership vs. riparian water rights is yet to be considered on the floor of either house.

A constitutional amendment, declaring a new doctrine of state ownership and beneficial use of water, before the assembly, proposing to refer the matter to the people for settlement at the next election. This is the water question so bitterly fought at a recent water hearing.

Reapportionment, which has passed the lower house, remains before the senate, with little chance of opposition to its passage. In the final analysis the reapportionment question will be submitted to the people again upon referendum, so there is nothing else for the legislature to do but follow out the people's mandate as expressed at the last general election.

This week saw a number of very important bills become laws under the governor's signature. These included the "anti-diploma mill" measure, narcotics regulation, field crop inspection act, three man civil service commission and a law providing for schools in detention homes.

Reconsideration of the vote against tightening up the laws against illegal search of homes for liquor, the Jones bill making possession of a still a felony and the remaining criminal law revision bills are the other outstanding issues remaining on the files of the two houses.

probably have shot her dead. Wise woman!

Next to a frightened woman with a shrill voice, the most potent weapon against burglars is a small and foolish dog. Or, if you must have something mechanical, pile a lot of tin dishes on a shelf, with a string to pull a trigger and dump them on the floor. In an isolated neighborhood, you might even rig a big bon on the roof, with a string or push button to set it off, but no way to stop it until it ran down.

The burglar would be in the next county before your neighbors arrived in their flippers to chase him. That is exactly where you want him; the further away, and the worse scared, the better.

These are all good weapons. There are also bad ones. And, of all the bad ones, the revolver under the pillow is the worst.

Local Briefs

Miss Beatrice Brown is making good progress in recovery from an operation for appendicitis at the Santa Ana Valley hospital, according to the attending physician.

The operation was performed Tuesday. Ralph Fuller, who had his right leg broken by a fall in Los Angeles six weeks ago, was able to be out for a short time yesterday. He is still at the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Charles A. Clark, 40, formerly a prominent resident of Anaheim, died this week at Tijuana, where he was temporarily residing. The deceased was a member of the local council of the Knights of Columbus. He is survived by his widow, Claudina Rimpau, and three children, Marjorie, Louise and John William. One brother, Edwin P., of Corona, and an uncle, Robert R. Bies, of Santa Ana, and a cousin, Benjamin Bies, of Eagle Rock, also survive. Funeral services were held Wednesday at 9:30 from St. Boniface Church, interment being in Anaheim cemetery.

MAY TAKE STEPS TO CONTEST ELECTION

PASADENA, April 9.—Seven municipal directors, successful candidates in a bitterly contested election here, will assume office on Monday, May 2.

The successful candidates were all supported by the Modern Government league and steps to contest the election may be taken by five of the incumbent directors who were defeated.

An approximate 43 per cent poll of 30,000 registered voters was compiled with the councilmen elected from the seven districts as follows: 1, M. J. Shupe; 2, James P. Jenkins; 3, Carl G. Wopschall; 4, Paul W. Merrill; 5, Irving S. Monroe; 6, Robert L. Daugherty; 7, Clayton R. Taylor.

Divorce Granted
Mrs. Ada M. Worden, of Santa Ana, won a decree of divorce from Edward Worden when Superior Judge Homer H. Ames yesterday heard her complaint of alleged cruelties. The court awarded Mrs. Worden custody of three minor children. A property settlement had been made out of court, it was said. The couple owned 320 acres of land at Calgary, Canada. Attorney John Martell represented Mrs. Worden in the case.

Married One Month
Mark P. Freeman married Mattie L. Freeman at Denver, where she owned a restaurant business. He invested his entire capital, $200, in her business and then tried his best to help her run it. He was willing, but apparently his good intentions were not appreciated. Perhaps he spilled soup on a customer's vest. At any rate, he claims, Mrs. Freeman chided him severely, much to his humiliation. The couple separated a month after they married in June, 1926. Now, Attorney E. O. Mathis, of Anaheim, is trying to get a divorce for Freeman.

Police News

J. B. Williams, 41, 631 North Plymouth avenue, Los Angeles, pleaded guilty to a drunk charge in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today and was given a 90-day suspended jail sentence. He was arrested last night by State Officers Craig and Stinson.

Two young boys were arrested yesterday by Walter Meyer, state traffic officer, and turned over to juvenile authorities. The youths are suspected of having looted automobiles parked near a theater at Orana, it was said.

SOCIETY

Ebell Section Names New Officers

Bright-colored crepe-paper flowers to be used in decorating Ebell clubhouse for the forthcoming spring market, were fashioned in abundance yesterday afternoon, by members of the fourth household economics section, as they listened to the routine of business as conducted by their leader, Mrs. Charles F. Mitchell, and the interesting talk given by Mrs. Marshall Harmons of the Harmons company on West Fourth street.

Mrs. Charles L. Johnson, Mrs. W. V. Whitson and Mrs. Edward C. Erwin composed the hostess committee for the day, and delighted their sister members and guests by serving a typical Easter menu at the luncheon hour. Small tables arranged with their own lovely linens, were grouped in the section room, and on each table were favors of saucy little Easter chicks displaying their new spring bonnets and drawing little carts of candy eggs. Eggs were given prominent place on the menu, and were simulated in the tempting dessert course of peach halves nestled in whipped cream on slices of sponge cake.

Returning to the lounge, the section members heard the discussion of many matters of business pertaining to their club work and then turned their attention to the program. Mrs. Harmons was introduced and gave a talk on lampshade making, illustrating the theme with an assortment of pretty shades. Her talk made the work seem so fascinating and easy, that she inspired everyone with the desire to go straightway into lampshade making.

Election of officers for the next club year, offered an interesting interval, and a whole new "slate" was elected. Mrs. James Clark will succeed Mrs. Mitchell as leader, and Mrs. W. L. Taylor Jr. will succeed Mrs. Charles L. Johnson as assistant leader. Mrs. C. H. Lurker, who has finished out Mrs. Maude Peacock's term as secretary, will turn over the books to Mrs. Eugene McBurney, and Mrs. Edward O. Erwin's duties as treasurer will be assumed by Mrs. O. H. Umberham.

The remaining events of the present club year, were outlined, and will include the final May meeting which will be a picnic, probably at the James A. Tarpley cottage at Newport. There will also be an evening party in the clubhouse when the members will entertain their husbands. This has been set for the night of April 28.

Mrs. Paul Johnson and Mrs. Eleanor Elliott were guests at the luncheon and program.

ILLNESS NO BAR

NEW YORK, April 9.—Walter Damrosch would go far before disappointing a symphony audience, especially when his specialty, Wagner, be on the program. He kept an engagement to conduct in Carnegie hall, though a doctor and a nurse were back stage attending him as often as possible during two hours of music.

SELECTS HEADQUARTERS

NEW YORK, April 9.—The Half Moon is to be a mecca for Democrats. It's a hotel at Coney where Al Smith is to live this summer. He has a whole suite on the eleventh floor, sufficient to seclude Mr. Ritchie of Maryland and others who are expected to call.

Japan is building a Buddhist school for Americans and any others who desire to study Buddhism in that country.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Book Review club will meet Tuesday night at 7:45 o'clock, with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Nealley on Glenn avenue, Tustin. Miss Agness Todd Miller of the English department of Santa Ana high school and junior college, will review Hamlin Garland's "Trail Makers of the Middle Border."

Ebell music section members will meet Monday morning at 11 o'clock in the clubhouse where they will give their attention to Verdi's "Aida." Mrs. James Willis Rice will present a paper on the opera and its composer; Madame Manuela V. Budrow will sing one of the Aida arias, and Monroe Sharpless will sing a group of songs. Luncheon will follow at 1 o'clock.

The Two in One class of Spurgeon Memorial Sunday school, will hold its monthly dinner and entertainment Monday night at 7 o'clock, instead of on Tuesday as has previously been the custom.

Ebell's Garden section will hold a special meeting Tuesday morning, 9:30 o'clock, at the clubhouse, in place of the regular meeting which would have been held on Thursday. The chairmen of the committees for the spring market as well as the Garden Beautiful contest committee are requested to be present at this meeting. The nominating committee will be appointed.

Business Women's Club

James Willard Schultz, author of "My Life With the Indians" and similar noted books on Indian customs and life, and a number of children's books, will be the attraction Monday at the noonday meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club at St. Ann's Inn.

Mr. Schultz will be presented by Miss Jeannette McFadden, city librarian and chairman of the April program committee, their friendship having resulted from her interest in his literary work. He is now staying at Laguna Beach, and very graciously consented to speak before the service club.

Because of the fame of the speaker and the promised interest of the program, the Business Women have announced that other service clubs or anyone interested in Indian lore, will be privileged to attend the luncheon, but should telephone the Inn (628) and make reservations at the usual service club price.

This Is Your Business—

Monday, you voters of Santa Ana are to elect city officials. Among the positions up for your consideration is that of City Trustee of the First Ward. The selection of Trustee from this ward, as well as from other wards in the city, is a business proposition, pure and simple. Therefore, the selection should be along business lines.

This Is Your Business—Therefore give consideration to the following essentials:

1—Absolute personal integrity.
2—Stamina to do the things he knows he should do, even though under fire.
3—Experience in public affairs.
4—Industry and ability.
5—Long residence and acquaintance with local conditions.

If you were a business man employing a manager, or were a business corporation selecting somebody to look after the business of the corporation, you would measure your applicants by these standards.

Why not apply these same standards in the selection of a City Trustee? LET'S apply these measurements to J. L. McBride, candidate for City Trustee from the First Ward:

1—His personal integrity has never been questioned. It cannot be questioned.
2—No man in public life in this county has been up against pulling and hauling by selfish interests any more than has McBride, and always he has stood four-square. He fights for what he knows is right. He has the stamina to do the things he knows he should do, even under the hottest fire.
3—Eight years County Surveyor. Six years superintendent of Orange county highway department. Eight years member of the Santa Ana Board of Education, four years as president of the board. Captain of Company L, Seventh Regt., N. G. C. Practical engineer.
4—McBride is known as hard-working. When he sets out to get a thing done, he never spares himself. He has never neglected public affairs for private business.
5—McBride has lived here practically all his life. He went through our public schools. He has been in close touch with public affairs ever since he came to manhood.

McBride Is on the Square

If he is elected, everybody will get a square deal from him, and particularly will he give to the City of Santa Ana a square deal in attending to the job.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PETER'S LESSON IN TRUST

Text: Matthew 14:22-33

And straightway Jesus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.

And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, he was there alone.

But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves; for the wind was contrary.

And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea.

And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear.

But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I, be not afraid.

And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus.

But when he saw the wind boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me!

And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?

And when they were come into the ship, the wind ceased.

Then they that were in the ship came and worshiped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for April 10: Peter's Lesson in Trust.—Matt. 14:22-33.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

The comparison of life to a voyage at sea is one that has been widely developed in the history of human thought and literature. Probably there is no more apt comparison, in the mysteriousness of life's beginning and the mysteriousness of its goal, with all the incidents of calm and quietude, of storm and danger, of sunshine and gloom.

Life is essentially like the voyage of a mysterious ship on a sea of change and mystery. The figure changes and is capable of many variations, but in its deeper elements it is always the same.

It is this figure of life that imparts meaning and inspiration to our lesson. It is the story of a miraculous circumstance, of how Jesus came walking on the waves to the disciples as they were terror-stricken in the midst of the storm on the Sea of Galilee, and how with his quiet words, "Be of good cheer, it is I, be not afraid," he calmed all their fears and strengthened their faith.

It is the story of Peter, who in ficial calm of the enclosed harbor. Those for whom life induces no adventure, whose only thought is to be safe, and who never thrust out into the deeps of experience, may never feel the need of a steady, supporting hand; but the more fully and the more dangerously one lives, in the quest of the things that are truly worth while, and in the performance of the services that can be rendered only through sacrifice and danger, the more a man feels, at times, his weakness and his complete insufficiency, the more he is moved to cry to some great Power, "Lord save me, I perish."

Help for All Men

It is to such men that Christ comes with his help and salvation even as he came to Peter.

We may not see, as these disciples, the Lord Jesus come walking upon the sea; our faith may never rest upon any observance of a departure from physical law, but it is not upon the temporary overcoming of the law of gravitation, but upon the constant power of the uplifting and sustaining presence of Christ that we depend for the greatest of all miracles—the quickening of the soul into life and vigor when all seems falling and falling around us.

To hear Christ's words, "Be of good cheer, it is I, be not afraid," is to find peace and calm and inspiration in the storms of life. To feel the touch of Christ's hand and the uplifting power of his strong right arm is to know in deed and in truth that God has made his presence and his power known to men.

It is the experience of Christ that the soul cries, as Peter cried in his moment of safety, "Of a truth thou art the Son of God."

PALM SUNDAY

Sermon subject: "The Conquering Christ."

Is the "Pale Galilean" really conquering the earth? Did Jesus intend his Gospel for the whole or only for a chosen few whom he desired to save?

In the evening at 7:30 the meeting will be evangelistic. This church offers in a sane, helpful way the only Gospel there is—the old but ever new Gospel of Jesus.

Hostess Duo Completes Colorful Series of Bridge Events

After a series of pleasant luncheons at which they entertained separately and in their homes, Mrs. Parke S. Roper and Mrs. Addie M. Collins completed their spring hospitality by combining to give two smart affairs, a dinner and evening of bridge in the Santa Ana Country club, and a bridge luncheon in the Rose Arbor Tea room on North Main street.

The luncheon was an event of yesterday, and the interior of the Rose Arbor was quite as brilliant with flowers as were the great trellises outside, with their trailing sprays of Cherokee roses. For friends of the hostesses literally showered them with all the colorful blossoms of an unusually abundant spring.

Thirteen tables were arranged for the very delectable luncheon served by Mrs. E. S. Chamberlain, manager of the tea room, and later were fitted with attractive card table covers for the bridge session. In such minor details as checking the arrivals of guests, taking scores and other features of a card afternoon, Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Roper were assisted by Mrs. George S. Briggs and Mrs. John I. Clark.

The very lovely trophies which they had selected, went to Mrs. Earl Morrow, scoring high; Mrs. C. M. McCain, a second, and Dr. Mabel Varcoe Tremain, consolation.

The bridge dinner was given earlier in the week and found its setting at the country club where guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Roper, Mrs. Collins and her son, Ralph Collins. Four tables were arranged in the north end of the great dining-room, and each one of the quartet presided as host at a table.

An elaborate arrangement of flowers gave color to the scene and harmonized with the beautiful dinner gowns worn by the female guests. Tall white wax dinner candles added to the charming effect. As the evening progressed, a dozen card tables were placed around the great fireplace, and guests turned their attention to bridge, with Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Collins assisting in host duties.

At the close of the series, the scores made by husbands and wives were tallied together, and attractive gifts presented Mr. and Mrs. Edward Timmons, leading the list; Dr. and Mrs. John I. Clark, second, and Mr. and Mrs. John Tubbs, third.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium of the church. Mrs. W. B. Snow, president, conducted the devotion in the absence of Mrs. F. W. Wieseman, leader for the day. Mrs. P. S. Robinson reported that the Esther Home group had made three dozen either towels for the Methodist hospital in Los Angeles. Mrs. John Lounsbury reported that the Deaconess Rest Home group had several comforts ready for the Deaconess Rest home at Huntington Beach. Mrs. S. M. Davis reported that the Frances Depauw group had made eight aprons for the girls in that school. Mrs. W. B. Snow and Mrs. C. F. Seltzer brought interesting reports from a recent meeting of the Deaconess board. Mrs. W. D. Baker, secretary of young people's work, reported that the Queen Esther circle had accepted the challenge of Mrs. P. A. Robinson and would soon have enough new members to entitle them to the chicken dinner which she had promised. Mrs. Baker also gave an interesting report of a dinner given in the church last week by the Queen Esthers in honor of their mothers.

A program of very great interest began with special music, a piano solo played by Mrs. Gale Harmon and a vocal solo by Miss Robin Ruth Seitter, with Mrs. Harmon at the piano. Miss Helen Walker, director of Americanization work in Santa Ana, was the speaker of the afternoon. She demonstrated the classwork as it is conducted by the teachers who are doing this work in Delhi and at Artesia street. In no other way could the members have had so clear an idea of the problems these teachers must solve. Miss Walker also emphasized the fact that there were certain very great compensations for the worker in some of the things they were able to accomplish.

The meeting was adjourned with a word of prayer by the president.

Piano Recital

Pupils of Miss Arline Birchard entertained parents and friends at a delightfully arranged "Evening of Music" at the home of Miss Birchard, East Washington avenue, Thursday evening.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Blackmore, talented young pianists of Los Angeles. Mr. Blackmore played in his most pleasing style, "The Witches' Dance" by MacDowell and "Prelude" by Rachmaninoff. Miss Birchard and Mr. Blackmore gave two duos with brilliant technique. "The Invitation to Dance" by Weber and "Polonaise" by Chopin.

The program displayed solos and duets selected from well known composers played in an artistic manner by a group of talented pupils; those participating were, Evelyn Griset, Margaret Baxter, Virginia Motley, Norma Buck, Marjorie Jacques, Bernice Walker, Mary Lee Walker, Velma Wentzel, Hugh Walker, Arthur Jacques, Robert Motley and Earl Motley.

EASTER RAIMENT PROMISES TO VIE WITH FAMED LILIES OF THE FIELD

THREE ATTRACTIVE DEVELOPMENTS OF EASTER STYLES ARE SHOWN. PAULINE STARKE, SCREEN STAR, IS DEPICTED WEARING A TAILLEUR IN THE BLACK AND WHITE THAT IS SO SMART THIS SPRING. THE POWDER-BLUE EMBROIDERED FROCK IS ESPECIALLY ATTRACTIVE FOR FORMAL AFTERNOON WEAR, WHILE THE EXCELLENT LINES OF THE ROSE-BEIGE KASHA ENSEMBLE MAKE IT EXTREMELY SMART FOR INFORMAL WEAR.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Suit, coat ensemble or afternoon costume—what shall it be for Easter?

This annual problem confronting women sounds like a simple decision. But so often clothes make the woman. It is essential to feminine psychology that milady look her best when she joins the ranks of the Easter paraders. Time and thought should go into the Easter garb.

Most women dream of the day when each season will mean innumerable complete costumes. But since that is just a dream, the average woman must concentrate on a few. Her Easter costume should be the culmination of her good taste and fully emphasize her charm.

Another Rule

A woman's figure should somewhat determine her choice in type of garment. Short, inclined-to-be-plump women would better forego the pleasure of a smart tailored suit and choose a coat ensemble, with straight and unbroken lines. The very feminine woman, the rare type of clinging line, should emphasize her characteristics by wearing graceful, soft frocks.

One other rule may be valuable if she has a spring coat. It might be advisable to build the Easter outfit around a suit costume or an afternoon frock. Vice versa, if a good spring suit hangs in the wardrobe, by all means let Easter see milady looking her best in a coat ensemble or afternoon frock.

To the chooser of suits perhaps goes the largest choice. Suits this spring range from the strictly tailored model with straight or wrap-around skirt and mannish, hip-length coat, to the dressy little suit with its three tiered skirt and bolero jacket developed in taffeta.

In between these two are infinite varieties of semi-colored and sports suits of woolen or kasha and silk pleatings, panels, stitchings, trick pockets and a hundred little touches that spell style.

Must Be Tailleur

"Why wear a suit unless it is a tailleur?" contends Pauline Starke, the screen idol. Unfinished black worsted and gleaming white satin fashion Miss Starke's choice, a charming exemplification of the season's craze for black and white.

The coat is regulation length, with stitched seam down the back and long revers that disclose a dazzling double-breasted little satin vest with two rows of large pearl buttons marching up it. Pearls hold the cuffs shut and a pearl ornament catches the gleam of a brimless black satin hat. White fox neckpiece, black patent leather smart dressy oxfords and black chiffon hose complete her outfit, which is intriguingly chic.

Rose-beige kasha fashions the coat ensemble illustrated today. A pleated skirt of kasha, jumper of flat crepe of self color and a straight line coat with smart standing collar and back yoke is topped by a small rose beige hat of visca with deep rose bindings. A gay scarf in cream and deep rose stripes with a little dog's figure stitched on gives careless nonchalance to the costume. A deep banding of the same striped material lines the bottom of the coat.

Coral Dapper

Also illustrated is a packet-frock model developed by Bruck-Weiss in powder blue georgette embroidered in coral and tiny silver threads. The frock is sleeveless with bandings of embroidery outlining the arm-hole and a peppy bow of blue georgette on the right shoulder. The graceful two-tiered skirt is elaborately embroidered and the little jacket, with its little Chinese collar of embroidery, its full sleeves gathered into tiny cuffs and its cut-away style is embroidered all over.

The French skull hat of deeper blue has a coral dagger through its right side.

For variety in styles and color no Easter ever offered so much choice as this year. Which shall it be?—suit, coat ensemble or afternoon costume? They are all lovely. They are all equally good. Personal taste and type should decide the choice.

Trio of Musicians to Present Program at Ebell Meeting

Monday's Ebell meeting promises the attraction of music to follow the business discussion at 2 o'clock for those talented players, Miss Leonora Tompkins, W. G. Axworthy and James McCarthy, will present the program.

The musicians formed a trio several months ago, under the direction of Miss Tompkins, pianist, and will be heard Monday in two ensemble groups and one solo group.

The program as outlined by Miss Tompkins, promises to be an unusually interesting event and will open with "Reve Angellique" by Rubenstein, with Miss Tompkins at the piano, Mr. Axworthy playing the cello, and Mr. McCarthy, the violin. In this group will also be given "Andante Cantabile" by Beethoven and "Sevillana" by Massenet.

The solo group will be presented by Mr. Axworthy who will play "Widmung" (Dedication) by Poter and a "Song Without Words." In the final feature, the trio will render two Negro spirituals by Burleigh, "Deep River" and "Didn't My Lord Deliver Daniel?"

Mrs. Bond Entertains Pegasus Members in Main Street Home

"Pets" offered a fruitful subject for papers, verse and stories, when Pegasus club members met recently with Mrs. Charles Bond, 608 South Main street.

The afternoon program was directed by Mrs. Earl Morris and she had chosen "Pets" as the theme, calling upon Mrs. W. E. Foote for the first contribution. Mrs. Foote's fancy led her to recount the tale of a little brown goat and the sad end to which it came, after which Mrs. R. R. Caldwell told of the imaginary playmates of a childhood which had known no animals to love and cherish.

Mrs. Clarence Bond in a paper on "Dogs and Their Values," gave many new and interesting suggestions and ended by quoting a touching poem about dogs. Mrs. George Bond gave two original poems which she called "Heartaches," as each dealt with the death of a loved pet, and also offered an entertaining sketch called "Tiger Cat."

In her story, Mrs. Fanny Lash told of a family horse named Creemo, and the interesting adventures the youngsters of her home, had with it. "Pets at Maple Grove Farm" was the theme of a paper by Mrs. Caleb Jackson, who told of animals that Mrs. Jackson and owned and loved. Mrs. Bruce Switzer read an Edgar Guest poem, "Signs of Gentleness" which was very appropriate, and Mrs. Morris brought the program to a conclusion with a synopsis of Albert Payson Terhune's article in a leading magazine, called "Bumps" and recounting his disappointments when first entering the literary field.

An interested visitor at the meeting, was Mrs. Leonard Bond of Grant, N. M., who is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bond. The next meeting of the Pegasus club will be with Mrs. W. E. Foote.

Santa Anans Attend Spring Exhibit

Miss Beulah May, Mrs. Harry Brackett and William L. Cummings formed a little group attending the opening spring exhibit of California and eastern artists last night, at Exposition park, Los Angeles.

They found the exhibit a very interesting one, but were surprised at the number of pictures entered by eastern painters. There were but three Laguna Beach artists represented, Karl Yens, William Wendt and Harold Weaver, but they had some admirable canvases.

Of the easterners, they found the work of Charles Hawthorne and W. L. Glackens especially interesting. Miss May was especially intrigued by the sculptures of Archipenko, and the various mediums in which he finds expression. His work is extremely modern and individual but for all its strangeness, possesses a marked virility and originality, she felt.

Business Experience Personal Integrity

P. G. BEISSEL

Points to Consider

In voting for City Treasurer at Monday's election, you will consider the BUSINESS EXPERIENCE and the BUSINESS and PERSONAL INTEGRITY of P. G. BEISSEL as reasons why he should make a first class city treasurer.

Beissel has been in business in Santa Ana for many years and has held numerous positions of trust and confidence in organizations with which he has been affiliated. His business responsibility is shown not only in his success as a merchant, but by the fact that he is president of the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association.

Genuine, Old-Fashioned Honesty

P. G. Beissel has a reputation, gained during years of residence here, for absolute integrity. He has always stood FOUR-SQUARE with the world and with everybody with whom he has come in contact.

VOTE FOR P. G. BEISSEL FOR CITY TREASURER

Many folks in the U. S. A. own their homes, own and drive good autos, educate their children, patronize and enjoy the arts and music to a marked degree and find time to develop a cultured character. This is due to an intelligent use of the money that they earn as well as to an energetic application of the time which every one has at his disposal.

Budging the Family Budget

The family budget helps to do this. While the humorist has perhaps, profited most from budgets and their entanglements, a budget DOES help. It helps to "point the finger" at expenditures and brings the light of exposure on to leaks. It makes the responsible members of the family think. It helps adjust and right wrongs in the amounts that go into the different needs and enjoyments of the entire group that depend upon the family income. The check up is definite and certain and becomes a record. Costs and quality of supplies get the acid test. In short, a family budget is an expense house-cleaning, plus.

"20 per cent of the Food Buyer's dollar goes for dairy products: This is wise. He gets 20 per cent of his energy food, 38 per cent of his protein, together with minerals and vitamins almost beyond value."

Dr. McCollum.

When the buyer of food for the table begins to study the budget, the dairy products begin to sing. For health begins and ends at the table, irrespective of the intervening happenstances. The woman finds that fresh milk, for example, has the food elements but goes farther and supplies the vitamins in so large a proportion that it is not only economical to buy milk, but is absolutely necessary. Especially to keep the children level with their grades, to keep the head of the house "pepped" up and to make the whole family restive against disease.

S. A. WATERSHED PROBLEMS DISCUSSED BY MEMBERS OF WATER CONSERVATION BODY

RIVERSIDE, April 9.—Bringing to the members of the directors of the Water Conservation Association an encouraging report relative to the matter of procuring state funds for the completion of the survey of the Santa Ana watershed, Francis Cuttle, president of the association, and George S. Hinckley, of Redlands, yesterday reported the results of the conference recently held at Sacramento, attended by representatives of Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties.

It was recognized, however, that the sum of $50,000 suggested for completing the work on the Santa Ana basin would be dependent largely on the working out of a program which will safeguard the state against loss of revenue on account of the recent supreme court decision which threatens to disrupt the state's tax system. Only a portion or none of this amount may be available in case no remedy is found for this situation.

It was the consensus of opinion of the directors, after hearing the reports, that it was a tactical mistake to have included the Mojave river survey with that of the Santa Ana river, which is in an entirely separate watershed. As matters now stand, $50,000 has been asked for the completion of the Santa Ana survey and $25,000 for the Mojave watershed work.

Just before adjournment the sum of $10,000 was authorized for fire prevention and the protection of watershed cover. This sum, with funds which will be furnished by other organizations, including a number of water companies, will make a total sum available for the coming year for this purpose of $35,000, one-half of which will come from the federal government.

It was the sense of the board that no phase of water conservation is more important than that of protecting forest cover from the ravages of fire, the experience of Orange county in the Silverado canyon fire being cited as a case in point.

Progress of Engineer's Work
Present at the session of the directors which convened at 10 o'clock were J. C. Jones, J. W. Catlick and George S. Hinckley from San Bernardino county; H. H. Hale, S. H. Finley and George Dierker from Orange county, and Francis Cuttle, Frank F. Chase and E. O. Rickard from Riverside.

Referring to the conference held at the state capitol on Saturday, April 2, Mr. Cuttle stated that there were present Senators Swing and Kline, Assemblymen Isaac Jones, Archie Brock, Dr. C. D. Ball, J. E. Wherrell and Messrs. Starke, Harris, Wolfe, Hinckley and himself.

At this conference State Engineer Bailey reported that his office had investigated in all, 19 dam sites and 13 separate reservoir sites, and that borings had been made at some of these sites. The report shows that while there are no very satisfactory sites for impounding water in the reservoirs, there are sites where dams can be built for the purpose of regulating stream flow so as to minimize damage from floods, and desilt the water, which will make it possible to sink it in underground gravels without sitting up these valuable underground storage regions.

Conservancy Act Amendments
President Cuttle submitted to the directors the amendments which have been made in the conservancy act of 1919. Minor amendments were suggested by County Auditor Payne of Los Angeles county, to clarify the handling of the funds. All of these seem to be desirable and were accepted, Mr. Cuttle stated. The important amendments include a provision that vote for the formation of the district will now be by qualified registered electors in the district instead of by an average vote as originally provided, to which latter method there was considerable objection by property owners in cities.

Another amendment provides that a majority, instead of a two-thirds majority vote of qualified electors, will enable the district to raise money by bonded indebtedness, and the other important amendment provides for separate action of each county or part of county relative to the matter of going into the district. This is considered a wise provision as the original law would make it possible for two counties to force a portion of the third county into a district against the will of owners of land in that county.

The conservancy act, which was compiled by the Tri-Counties Reformation committee and the Water Conservation association, was passed in 1919, but no organization has yet been perfected under it, Mr. Cuttle explained. With the amendments to the act, as now going through the legislature, the three counties will be in position to organize for complete flood control and conservation of the waters of the Santa Ana river whenever, in the judgment of interested parties, desirable so to do.

After consulting with Senator Swing, Senator Kline and others in Sacramento, it was thought advisable to amend Section 4641 of the political code of California, which would give boards of supervisors greater power than is now provided for in the above section of the code, which provides that boards of supervisors may expend money for flood control either within or without the boundaries of the county. The amendment provides that the supervisors may appropriate money, not only for flood control, but also for conservation of water, protection of watershed cover, and for the making of plans for all of these purposes. There is nothing mandatory in this, but it is an enabling provision, which may at some time be very valuable.

Moody Threatens Martial Law In Lawless Borger

AUSTIN, Tex., April 9.—Governor Moody, of Texas, has put the control of lawlessness existent at Borger, Texas, up to Borger authorities and threatened to declare martial law if conditions there are not immediately cleaned up.

Moody sent telegrams to the county judge of Stettin, Texas, and to Marvin Thomas, secretary of the Borger Chamber of Commerce, stating his decision after going over reports of his special investigators who are now in Borger.

The young governor also sent a telegram to Borger city officials, demanding their co-operation in the drive against lawlessness on threat of taking control of the situation from their hands.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, April 9.—The physical examination offered for children of pre-school age of the Oceanview school district was passed successfully by 18 children, who next term will enter the local school. The majority of this number rated unusually high in the test.

Mrs. Harriette Dowty, president of the Willing Workers group of this community, was hostess Wednesday at an all-day gathering which had on its program a most delightful pot-luck dinner, a quilting bee, at which one quilt was completed by the club members, and a business meeting, at which several interesting plans were taken up. A subscription was voted for the Frank Vaughn fund, the treasurer being invested with power to pay same from the treasury.

Announcement of the next meeting of the society, two weeks hence, was made for the home of Mrs. Ed Woods, at which time the dollar social of the society will be held, each member to bring a dollar and tell how she earned it.

The women present at Wednesday's meeting were Mrs. Mark Hodgins, Mrs. Mills Cowling, Mrs. Ed. Woods, Mrs. Frank Ingersoll, Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. George Hickman, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Will Smith, Mrs. Frank Catching, Mrs. Fred McIntee, Mrs. Will Henry, Mrs. Rush McCammon, Mrs. Jim McClung, Mrs. Alphonse Dowty, Mrs. Forrest Dowty, Mrs. George Kesterson, and the hostess, Mrs. Harriette Dowty.

Attending the installation of the Mooseheart lodge at Huntington Beach Wednesday evening were Mrs. Laura Sizer, Mrs. Bertha Hurt, Mrs. R. Fox, Mrs. Eva Hicks, Mrs. Iva Hazard, Mrs. Ethel Sebastian, Mrs. George Gothard and Mrs. Jean Jenkins.

The two cottage prayer meetings held this week at the homes of Prof. and Mrs. R. A. Shostag Tuesday, and Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Roberson on Thursday evening, were well attended.

Beginning Monday evening there will be a special meeting each evening from 7 o'clock to 8 o'clock at the Methodist church, the services being of a pre-Easter nature.

The pastor of the church, the Rev. J. R. Carpenter, has prepared an interesting program for each evening. A radio will be installed in the auditorium and special programs, given over different stations for Easter week, will be tuned in on several evenings. Wednesday evening a Victrola program will be given, persons with sacred records being asked to bring their best music to add to the program. The members of the children's choir, which for several weeks has been preparing for the Easter service, are asked to attend each evening and assist with the programs, and after the close of the service choir practice will be held for one-half hour under the direction of the leader, the Rev. Mr. Carpenter.

The Sunday school class of boys of the Methodist Sunday school, taught by E. Ray Moore, were guests of Mr. Moore at an evening plunge party, held at the Long Beach plunge, where the boys had a delightful swim and this was followed by a short time on the "pike" before the return home. Mr. Moore and his wife each took a machine and the 12 guests of the pleasant occasion included John Kettler, Dwayne Moore, Wilbur Buck, Edward Ruoff, Clifton Beck, Earl Rogers, Kenneth McMillan, Gerald McMillan, Wendell Kanawyer, Eugene Russell, Henry Sizer and James Taylor.

Alfred Wise, of Costa Mesa, was a guest recently at the Henry Snadell home.

Mrs. Ida Williams, of Long Beach, was a Tuesday visitor in the home of Mrs. Arthur Eby.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Fuller and son, of Los Angeles, were dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Fuller's aunt, Mrs. George Nichols, and were accompanied by Mrs. Fuller's two sisters, the Misses Kate and Irene Horton, who have been in her home this school term and plan on leaving at the close of school to spend the summer with their father at Mesa, Ariz.

Miss Alma Kanawyer has been absent from high school several days this week as the result of a large carbuncle on her face.

Fred Slater has been missing school as the result of illness, and his sister, Miss June Slater, has just returned to the school room following an attack of influenza.

The Horace Moore family has been released from quarantine for scarlet fever, under which they have been the past month, during the illness of the two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Moore are moving from their home to the Cole ranch, south of Wintersburg, upon which Mr. Moore has an option, and which he will ranch this season.

The Queen Esther meeting, which was scheduled for Friday, was postponed until next Friday evening.

Members of the Paul Baker family were guests one day this week in the home of Mrs. Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Chism.

Pupils and teachers of the Oceanview school are enjoying the Easter vacation, which began with the close of school Friday evening and lasts until April 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snadell and son and daughter were Tuesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hepburn in Huntington Beach. Jean Ranney has been ill this week and missed several days from school as a result.

Mr. and Mrs. William Marshall, of Huntington Beach, were recent evening dinner guests in the J. P. Ranney home.

Mrs. W. P. Treece was a guest at a one o'clock luncheon given recently at the Huntington Beach home of Mrs. Nellie Furgerson.

Merton Hosack, of the Stockton tract, has purchased a barn and had it moved onto his lot here.

Mr. Glenn, a nephew of Mrs. Albert Steck, is a guest in the Steck home, having arrived last Monday from his home at Prescott, Ariz.

THERE'S A BIG JOB AHEAD

In the next four years, Santa Ana must solve its water problem. That's a job that requires expert handling.

Santa Ana has street problems, sewer problems, and various problems that will arise as the city grows.

It is vitally important that we elect men to the City Council who know what it is all about.

Knox will not have to spend months and months getting acquainted with conditions. Knox knows them now. He served this city as its city engineer, which position calls for superintendency of streets and handling other engineering problems.

Knox was in charge of the outfall sewer project.

Purinton Always Ready to Look After Any Matter for Santa Ana and Its Citizens

F. L. PURINTON

Frank L. Purinton is as loyal a worker for Santa Ana as ever lived. Long before he was chosen as councilman, he was at work for this city. He is of an enterprising and progressive type, a man who wants to get results for his city.

He is himself one of the heaviest taxpayers in Santa Ana, and his own future is absolutely and completely wrapped up in the success and future of this city.

What's good for one taxpayer, is good for all of us, when it comes to watching the public treasury and seeing that the city gets the most possible out of every dollar of tax money.

Purinton has served this city in numerous ways. He served as a director of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

He has served as and at this time is a member of the Orange County Fair Board. He has given weeks of his time to making the County Fair what it is.

Purinton is an up-and-coming citizen. He is not asleep at the switch and not asleep on his job as city councilman.

As a business man, Purinton is recognized as an upstanding, on-the-square man. His word is good as his bond.

If you want Santa Ana to keep abreast of the times, keep Purinton on as a City Trustee.

Don't Change Horses in the Middle of the Stream

It would be a serious mistake and poor business for Santa Ana to refuse to re-elect Frank Purinton. No man in this city is in closer touch with the city's needs than he. No man has spent more time in studying conditions and in seeking remedies for them. No man has a keener interest in getting needed results for the city. Santa Ana's problems cannot be solved in a day. Our ordinances need to be revamped. We need more water. We are a growing city. Knowledge of our conditions as relating to sewers, streets, drainage and all that kind of thing are essential. Purinton has spent much time in getting this information. We should keep him on the council so that we as citizens can have the benefit of the experience and knowledge that he has. Purinton never turns down a call on his time for city business—Never. Anybody can talk to him, no matter how small the complaint may be. Courtesy and desire to remedy conditions that are unpleasant have characterized his work as City Trustee.

Every hour of the twenty-four of Purinton's time belongs to the city if there is anything he can do for the city.

It would be poor business for Santa Ana to elect an entire new city council. There are projects under way that must be finished. The information in the minds of the present board should be carried directly on to the new board. There is no man in closer touch with the affairs of the city than is Frank L. Purinton, who has served as president of the Board of Trustees.

There are many reasons for re-electing Purinton, and this reason is one of the important reasons. Unless there is a carry-over from the present board to the new board, months of time will be lost that should not be lost, before the new board gets under way. That's NOT GOOD BUSINESS.

We Need Purinton

We Need Purinton

IN seeking a position of public trust, it is the custom for the candidate to make a public statement of his views of the duties of that trust.

The duty of the Board of Trustees is to transact the City's business, for the taxpayers. In doing this the Board should look after the needs of the City, and in taking care of the City's present needs, should consider and bear in mind its future needs, in order to avoid as far as possible the needless expenditure of the City's funds. Money needlessly expended is money wasted, and I am as much opposed to the waste of public money as I am of my own personal funds.

I believe it is the duty of the Board of Trustees to see that the City gets value received for the taxpayers' money expended in the transaction of the City's business. The taxpayers have performed their full duty and obligation to this City, when they pay their just portion of the expenses of carrying on the City's business, and I believe that it is not only the duty, but a binding obligation of the Board of Trustees, to see to it, that none of this money is needlessly expended in conducting the City's business.

I believe in progressiveness, in city affairs, based on sound business principles, and I am convinced that this is the only kind of progress, that will promote prosperity, encourage future growth, stabilize business, make investments safe and attract men of means and business ability to our city.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

Broadway, that playground of the millions and millionaires, has been infused. And as for melodrama "Cabaret," Gilda Gray's second production, arrives Sunday at the Yost Broadway theater.

All the glamour and glitter of New York night life are said to be reflected in this drama of a white way dancer. All the sparkle and spontaneity of a riotous revue have been infused. And as for melodrama—when one realizes that Owen Davis, author of "Blind Alleys" and a hundred stage plays wrote "Cabaret," that too can be expected in large measure.

"Cabaret" is an unusual tale of an unusual cross-section of an unusual town. Gilda, the star of a mid-night show, is loved by a detective and hounded by a gang leader who has a mysterious hold on her young brother. The production reaches its high point when the boy shoots his nemesis in self-defense and Gilda, half-dances, half-carries the wounded youth through a crowd of revelers, out the front door and on to—well, that will be disclosed when "Cabaret" is shown.

Tom Moore, hero of "The Song and Dance" and "A Kiss for Cinderella," is the detective. Chester Conklin and Mona Palma also have leading roles.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Presenting the love, the beauty, and the glory of old Spain in the days when armor-clad nobles ruled and conquered and died, "The Night of Love," which opens Sunday at the West Coast-Walker scores another triumph for that greatest of all acting teams, Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky.

The keynote of the production is romance, not prosaic romance of today, but the old romance of the days that are gone; days of grandeur and color, when love was not held in leash by convention but cut deeply into the raw reality of desire and far-flung achievements. It will be considered Ronald Colman's greatest picture, for he fits his role perfectly and reaches new heights of dramatic interpretation.

Miss Banky whose blonde beauty descended on our shores from Budapest only a little over a year ago, displays an acting ability which should rank her the greatest of the younger stars in America. As the Princess Maria, niece of the king of France, she suffers, loves, and wins at last, not only the heart of her lover, but of her audiences as well.

The cast is replete with famous names, Montagu Love as the Duke de la Garda winning first honors with Natalie Kingston, Laska Winter, Sally Rand and the Marion Morgan dancers, all deserving special mention.

Fanchon and Marco will not be outdone by the superlative film this week in presenting their spring "Idea," which is said to be one of the most gorgeous of their efforts. In the act there are Edythe Evans, crooning low-down melodies, and Henry Fink, composer of "The Curse of an Aching Heart," and other favorites who render several

Also on the bill are two little acrobatic kiddies, Maureen and brother, well worth mention for their dancing and tumbling feats. The set designs depicting Spring in ultra-modern fashion are particularly enjoyable.

Movie Chatterbox

HOLLYWOOD, April 9.—With the winter's crop of feature and near feature films out of the way, Hollywood's studios are now getting busy on the next crop.

No "super specials" are in preparation, but a large number of straightaway films are to be turned out, and scenarists, actors and directors are all busy.

One announcement of interest is that which brings Ethel Clayton back to prominence.

Miss Clayton fairly "grew up" with the movies, transferring from the legitimate stage to the screen a number of years ago. She is given a leading part in "The Princess on Broadway," a Pathe film in which Pauline Garon will be starred, and advance notices say that her role calls upon her to "wear clothes"—stylish, expensive clothes.

Meantime Famous Players-Lasky officials are laying their plans for the filming of nothing else than "Able's Irish Rose." After long negotiations and much flourishing of check books, the film rights to this record-breaking play have been secured, and it is expected that detailed announcement of cast, etc., will be forthcoming shortly.

"I consider 'Able's Irish Rose' the greatest motion picture property we have ever handled," said Adolph Zukor.

Ben Hecht, foremost of the Chicago literati, is among those present in Hollywood nowadays. He has written what the press agents call "an epic" of Chicago underworld life, and it is now being made into a film, which will be appropriately titled, "Underworld." Arthur Rosson will direct it; Ricardo Cortez, Evelyn Brent and George Bancroft will have the leading roles.

Harold Lloyd is growing up. The funny "youth" of filmland is going to desert the small towns for New York, London, Paris and other places—that is, cinematically speaking. In other words, Lloyd is now planning to make his next picture one of those rambling films that will start in Hollywood and wind up in Rome.

"I want to make a comedy that is entirely different from anything I have ever done before," Lloyd said. "That is why I chose this travel idea. It is not only different from anything I have ever done but also entirely new in comedy fields as far as I know."

"According to our rough plans, the story will take up to New York, where we will board the Levathan for Europe. Then we will visit London, Paris, Berlin and Rome. Some of the picture will be made in each city as well as aboard ship going over and returning."

"Ted Wilde, who directed 'The Kid Brother,' John Grey and Lex Neale are now working on the story with me. We must have a story with some logical reason for making the journey. The film must be more than a travelogue."

The production, as Lloyd plans it, will cost in the neighborhood of a million dollars and will require anywhere from seven to nine months of actual "shooting." If the story can be completed work will start in about a month or six weeks.

Most of the comedian's pictures have had their settings in small towns. This one won't even have a suggestion of a small town in it.

"I will have to take a whole company with me," explains Lloyd. "And even with my own men around me, it will be a handicap to be so far from our base. We can't possibly have the equipment we have here at the studio. When we want something, we get it quickly. We may not have such luck in Europe."

One of the greatest menaces out here in this town known as the film capital is movie schools. Their chief source of revenue is from unsuspecting girls and boys who come here from all parts of the country to "crash" celluloid.

These schools advertise free screen tests—which turn out to be pretty expensive. When an applicant enters the office he, or she, is told that he is a perfect type for movie work. Then he is told that it would be a shame for him to take a test before he has had some instruction, because a bad test might ruin all his chances for a film career. The usual price for a course in make-up and acting is $50.

After the course has been paid for, then there are other things the student must purchase, amounting to approximately $25. After this expenditure, he is given the "free" screen test.

Applicants are told upon entering the schools that they are guaranteed jobs as actors upon completion of instruction course. Perhaps one out of 20 gets a job as an "extra." The others can't even get inside a studio.

Police have often closed most of the so-called schools because of the atmosphere of graft that shrouds them. But the laws apparently are lax and they always reopen. I know of one school, now operating full blast, that has been closed on four different occasions and the proprietor threatened with jail. But the penalty is never handed out.

The country at large will see Erich von Stroheim's newest production, "The Wedding March," some time this summer—just when nobody knows. Von Stroheim has been working on it for over a year, but there must still be several months of revising and rehashing before it is ready for the public.

Buster Keaton is now an honest to gosh soldier. He has just been commissioned a captain in the Oregon national guard because of his good work up there last summer. The comedian used the Oregon troops in filming his latest picture, "The General." While they were on location a forest fire broke out and the entire company spent two days fighting it.

YOST THEATER

"Getting Gertie's Garter," as a stage play was the hit of the season in New York several years ago. It was written by Avery Hopwood, one of the most brilliant farceurs now writing for the stage, and in its screen form it retains all the humor and verve that made for its success on the stage.

Marie Prevost is a positive riot in the movieized version now showing at the Yost theater, as "Gertie," who becomes involved in trouble when she attempts to restore to Charles Ray, in the role of her ex-fiance, a garter to which his picture is attached and which he had given her in the belief that it was a bracelet. In her surreptitious attempts to return the dodad, she runs afoul of her new fiance, who becomes intensely jealous, and thereby hangs the farce. The humorous situations are unforced, the action speedy and the complications provocative of genuine enjoyment.

"Gertie" is about the best thing Miss Prevost has done in a long while. Which means that it is unusually meritorious. Charles Ray is featured opposite Miss Prevost and proves himself a farce-comedy actor destined to achieve as much fame in such character types as he did in his celebrated bucolic roles.

WEST COAST-WALKER

The Pacific fleet, in full battle practice, never before permitted to be the target for a film camera, is one of the sensational spectacles being seen at the West Coast-Walker theater, in the massive production of "Tell It to the Marines," epic of the United States Marine corps, and in which the intimate lives of the "soldiers of the sea" form the basis for a sensational drama. The film closes its local engagement tonight.

Through co-operation of the U. S. government, which gave official sanction to the huge production, the regular annual battle practice was filmed in detail, with Lon Chaney, William Haines, Eddie Gribbon and other noted players taking their places and working in the regular ranks of the marines on duty during the big maneuver.

Lon Chaney plays a veteran sergeant in the new picture, with William Haines in the romantic lead as a young recruit undergoing his baptism of fire in the service. Eleanor Boardman plays the heroine, a navy nurse, and in this role works with the regular nurses on a navy hospital ship. Carmel Myers plays an exotic South sea vampire in the Oriental sequences of the story, and Eddie Gribbon, Mitchell Lewis, Maurice Kains, Frank Currier and other players of note appear.

Ben Lyon has another delightful burlesque on a staid old drama drawing card at the Yost Broadway tonight in "The Perfect Sap," a picture based on Howard Irving Young's "Not Herbert" which made a hit on the New York stage last year.

Just as "Bluebeard's Seven Wives" poked a bit of fun at the movies themselves, so "The Perfect Sap" sticks his tongue in his cheek and plays a mystery plot for laughs.

Ben is cast as the boob-like son of idle rich parents who wants to be a detective. His adventures with underworld characters in social settings provide one of the best evenings of entertainment we have had in many months.

Pauline Starke, Virginia Lee Corbin, Sam Hardy and Lloyd Whitlock give performances which more than bear out the boast of an all-star cast.

STUNT FLYERS IN ANAHEIM SUNDAY

Through the courtesy of R. A. Mosher, distributor for General Petroleum products, with headquarters at 939 East First street, Santa Ana, Captain Royal Wilson of the Universal studios, stunt flyer, will appear in Anaheim Sunday at 2 p. m.

Wilson will be accompanied by Ivan Unger and Al Johnson, Hollywood Black Cats.

Wilson will fly from the field near the sugar factory in Anaheim. The three men will do some of their daredevil stunts. A feature of the program will be a parachute jump from an altitude of 3000 feet. The men also will make a limited number of passenger flights.

Mosher said today the program is being held in Anaheim because he believed it to be nearest to the center of population in Orange county. No admission will be charged to watch the flyers, Mosher said.

GOSPEL BAND WILL CONDUCT SERVICES

The Pasadena college gospel band consisting of 35 young women and young men students of the Nazarene school, will take part in the services tomorrow at the Santa Ana Nazarene church, it was announced by the pastor, Rev. E. M. Hutchens. The band will be in charge of Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Ransom.

The preaching and musical program will be supplied entirely by the students at the afternoon service, beginning at 2:30 p. m. In the morning, Rev. W. C. Wiley, president of the college, will be heard.

Miss Dedah Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Gilbert, of 1523 Dresser street, is a member of the band.

Political Statements

McPhee's Policy Is Put Before City's Voters

In a statement issued this morning, George McPhee, candidate for re-election as trustee from the fourth ward, made it plain that his effort in office has always been to "keep Santa Ana a clean desirable place in which to live." His policy "to bar those places which contribute to the delinquency of our youth, and especially the Sunday closing of such resorts," will be continued, he stated.

McPhee's work as county sealer or weights and measures has been given enthusiastic praise by Charles F. Hayden, assistant chief of the State Division of Weights and Measures. Hayden wrote: "I have implicit confidence in you, the work you have done, and the diplomatic manner in which you have handled the department since I have known you, and whereas at times it may seem out of order when the state department makes recommendations, I feel sure you will understand it is because the whole state must be considered in some instances."

GARDNER SAYS HE WOULD WATCH TAXPAYERS' OUTLAY

J. A. Gardner, candidate for city trustee, first ward, in closing the campaign reiterates his declaration that one of the most important matters for every trustee to keep in mind is the watching of the taxpayers' money. He says he believes the taxpayer should be guaranteed the trustee's best efforts to see that every dollar is well and carefully spent.

THIRD WARD CANDIDATE PRESENTS SOME VIEWS

E. W. Cochems, the photographer, in closing his campaign for trustee from the third ward said that he is confident of election, having found the sentiment of voters very strongly for him. Cochems has been here thirteen years, and has taken a big interest in public affairs.

In discussing various subjects today, Cochems said:

"In a few short years this city has grown from a little country village into a thriving residential city. The next step in the growth of Santa Ana will be the development of an industrial district."

"Santa Ana should 'cash in' on its assets. Only a few minor things are needed to attract the attention of manufacturing men of prominence to Santa Ana. The opportunities for good homes which is offered workmen is one of the chief advantages of the city. A man who can see the possibilities of interesting manufacturing men in Santa Ana is a good man to place in charge of city business."

"The man with vision, who knows the value of correct advertising," said a friend of Cochems, "will do more for the city than the man who cannot. The man who can successfully place things before big men and eventually cause Santa Ana to become the biggest city in Southern California, is the man Santa Ana citizens are seeking."

"Santa Ana needs a good, sound, common sense, economic, progressive government, with successful business men directing her destinies."

COURTESY AND SERVICE URGED FOR PURINTON

That Frank L. Purinton, as city trustee for the past four years, has given constant, conscientious and able service to the city is declared by a host of friends urging his retention in the office he holds. Those who have been in close touch with his work say that Purinton never neglects giving immediate attention to anything having to do with city affairs, and that he meets everybody courteously and fairly.

When Purinton went on the city council he was put in charge of the street department. He put the department on a business basis, and established order out of disorder. Further, his friends point out, he has applied business methods to the city's business, at the same time keeping in mind the advisability and necessity of developing the city along safe and sane lines.

After serving two and a half years as street commissioner, Purinton was chosen by his colleagues as president of the city council, which position he now holds.

MITCHELL'S EXPERIENCE AS AN OFFICIAL CITED

John G. Mitchell is looked upon by those who know him as a man tried and true in public service. Before coming to California, he served as a county treasurer and held other offices of public trust and confidence. Eight years ago, Santa Ana elected him as city trustee, and he was president of the board, which office is generally spoken of as "mayor." Mitchell promises to give close attention to the work of the office, city recorder, if elected.

KELLY CLOSING HARD FOUGHT COUNCIL RACE

Closing a vigorous campaign made throughout the city, W. J. (Bill) Kelly, candidate for the city council from the fourth ward, said today that from the response he has received, he believes that his efforts have been successful and that he will be elected Monday.

At the same time, friends of Kelly are enthusiastic in their belief that Kelly will be the high man in his ward when the votes are counted Monday night. Kelly is a progressive and wants to see Santa Ana go ahead, he said today. He wants to be a member of the city council because he is interested in the future of the city. He was born in Santa Ana and has grown up with the city, so naturally his heart is with the town of his birth. He is keenly interested in the city's future development.

A young man, Kelly is connected with the building industry, being president of the Kelly Roofing company. He is a brother of D. N. Kelly of the Abstract Title Guaranty company, and is the son of Captain William Kelly of Newport Beach.

GOODE'S YEAR IN OFFICE SHOWS HIS QUALIFICATIONS

Today a statement was issued by a dozen friends of Stanley E. Goode in which the qualifications of Goode for the office of city trustee are reviewed. Goode has been trustee, second ward, for only fifteen months, but these friends point out, he has shown exceptional ability for public service. In handling the street department funds, Goode has spread them out so that great numbers of people get a service that alone would cost them individually more than they pay in taxes per year. Not only is garbage hauled with regularity, but a system has been put in by which any property owner who has debris to haul away, accumulated in the ordinary course of taking care of one's lot, can have it taken away by a city truck free instead of having to hire a private concern to do it. Goode has seen to it that every dirt alley in the city has been graded, graveled and rolled.

EY'S LONG SERVICE IN OFFICE BROUGHT FORTH

Those favoring the election of Frank Ey as city trustee, first ward, call attention to the fact that he has had many years of experience as a city trustee both in Santa Ana and Anaheim. In Santa Ana he served as president of the board. Ey states that if he is elected he will give all of his time to the position.

FRIENDS ARE EXPECTING RE-ELECTION OF ROGERS

Voters of Santa Ana will re-elect Claude Rogers next Monday, say his friends. They can see no reason why he should not be re-elected on the ground that he has given to Santa Ana an administration of law enforcement and vigorous opposition to crime. Mr. Rogers' friends point to the close co-operation and harmony existing between the city and county police officials, which is essential in a fight against the criminal class. They also note the freedom of Santa Ana from this undesirable element. They say, enjoying this protection and receiving from Chief Rogers' office prompt attention and courteous hearing, there exists no valid reason for making a change.

TALBOTT THANKS PRESS AND VOTERS

To the Voters and the Press:
Now that we are up to the last issue before the city election, I want to thank my friends and the press for the consideration I have received during the campaign. My friends have been liberal in their support and enthusiastic in their recommendations and the press has been eminently fair and helpful in furnishing to the public, political information and legitimate news concerning the campaign.

You, the citizens of this city, have a right to expect that, if elected, I will live up to the standard erected for me by those friends, and I pledge you my very best efforts to that end. You, the voters, are the final arbiters and to you I am looking for approval of my past record by electing me to continue that same policy for another four years.

Very sincerely yours,
JOHN F. TALBOTT.

FRIENDS SAY TALBOTT EQUIPPED FOR OFFICE

The fact that Judge John F. Talbott is so well equipped for the position of city recorder, temperamentally and judicially, is pointed out by his friends as ample reason why he should be returned to office. This community is singularly fortunate that a man of Judge Talbott's ability holds the position. There is every reason why he should be returned and no reason why he should not be. So when you vote next Monday retain the high standard of efficiency by re-electing John F. Talbott to the office of recorder.

HEINRICH URGES VOTERS TO RAISE TRUSTEE PAY

Editor Register:—Heretofore, the members of the Board of Trustees have received $25 per month. There is an amendment before the voters in the coming election (next Monday) to increase the expense account to $75 per month for each of four members, and the chairman to receive $100 per month. This might not be just what I, personally, would choose, but I will vote for it, and hope it will receive the 100 per cent indorsement of the voters.

Yours, for more efficiency in our city government,
CHARLES HEINRICH.

G. E. SHRIVER HAS SUPPORT OF FRIENDS

George E. Shriver has been a resident of Santa Ana for 20 years and in his race for city treasurer he has the support of a wide circle of friends. For five years he was a shoe merchant here and afterward he was associated with the F. P. Nickey Hardware company. He is a substantial property owner.

ACCIDENT VERDICT RETURNED BY JURY

A coroner's jury, in an inquest, late yesterday, over the body of Mrs. Bessie M. Buck, 2121 Eleventh street, Los Angeles, who died as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident, returned a verdict of accidental death and refused to fix responsibility.

The inquest was held at the Smith and Tutill funeral parlors, where the body had been removed from the Orange County hospital. Mrs. Buck died yesterday morning.

Death was due to injuries received when the car in which she was riding collided with a heavy gravel truck driven by Roy Huffman, San Juan Capistrano.

L. C. (CLAUDE) ROGERS

Few towns in Southern California enjoy the freedom from professional burglars, shoplifters, "con" men, dope peddlers and other undesirables as Santa Ana. For this reason, Santa Ana has been called "lucky." The real reason Santa Ana is lucky is because SANTA ANA IS WELL POLICED.

Strict law enforcement, harmony in the department, courtesy and general efficiency, instilled in the PAST FOUR YEARS, has placed the Santa Ana police department on the highest plane it has ever reached. CLAUDE ROGERS IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS.

Rogers is not wealthy. He is making the race for re-election because he needs the job. He is willing and anxious to work hard in policing the city, if elected. He is not a swivel chair marshal. His record shows that. He has been tested during the last four years and HE HAS COME THROUGH WITH FLYING COLORS.

Claude Rogers has been head of the Santa Ana police force for the past four years. Since that time, bootlegging has decreased 50 percent. There were 197 "drunks" arrested the first year he was in office. The year ending January 1, 1927, revealed that this number had decreased to about 100.

A man from the ranks himself, Claude Rogers knows police work, and his record during the past four years justifies him being given the position of City Marshal for a second term. Why discard a man who has proven himself?

KEEP ROGERS ON THE JOB!

EXACTNESS OF CAR STRUCTURE DEPENDS UPON PROPER GAUGES

Automobile Factories Use Special Sets to Check Up On Tools in Daily Use

Extreme Precision Secured Through Fine Adjustments of Instruments

(This is the third of a series of articles telling how the modern automobile is made).—Editor.

On proper gauges depends the exactness required in automobile manufacture. There are gauges for every purpose, for measuring internal diameters, for measuring depth of screw threads and sizes of threads, for measuring sizes and angles of gear teeth, and for making the every day measurements of length, breadth and thickness.

World's Standard
To make these gauges absolutely accurate there has to be a standard gauge for their measurement. For this, Carl E. Johansson, a Swedish rifle mechanic, has invented what is considered today the most marvelous set of gauges ever devised.

They are called Johansson gauges in his honor, and may be found in every shop where precision work is to be done. They are the standard of measurement accepted the world over, and are closely guarded against misuse or flaws. In fact an automobile plant may have two or three sets of "master gauges," which are never used except to check up on other Johansson gauges for accuracy.

The gauges in use are always at

Announcement By Durant Tells Merger

The anticipated "big announcement" by W. C. Durant on April 7, did not concern the introduction of a new automobile, but dealt with the organization of Consolidated Motors, Inc.

The new company, he said, would gather around it certain independent motor companies which would be "benefited" by such a merger. Consolidated Motors, he announced, would be built around the Star six automobile, just as he said he founded and built the now powerful General Motors corporation around the Buick.

Durant has resigned a long list of positions and will devote himself to automobiles exclusively hereafter.

SLEEVE VALVE PRINCIPAL TO BE DEVELOPED

Success of experiments made in this country and Europe in recent years points to the development and adoption of the two-cycle, single sleeve valve engine, for the automobile.

This is nothing new in Europe, where three passenger car companies and two motorcycle manufacturers have been making use of this type of motor. For America it is an innovation.

First signs of this development here was the purchase of the Argyl patents by Continental Motors about two years ago. These are the original single sleeve valve, two-cycle engine patents based on inventions of two Scottish engineers, Burt and McCollum. Heretofore, American motordom has been acquainted only with the double sleeve valve engine of the Knight type. In this case, two cylindrical sleeves within the cylinder work up and down, opening and closing the intake and ex-

DEMAND FOR NEW MODELS OF REO FLYING CLOUDS EXCEED SUPPLY BUT SANTA ANA DEALER HOPES TO CATCH UP WITH ORDERS IN NEAR FUTURE

Expect Company Will Add Two New Models to Present Line-up

The invitation of the Reo-Stutz Sales and Service company for prospective auto buyers to step into a Flying Cloud Reo and handle the wheel on a drive still holds good, according to announcement today by Joe Finley, manager of the company.

According to his statements, the sedan and the brougham, the new models, have quite caught the public eye, with the result that orders have come faster than the machines can be supplied. The dealer hopes soon to catch up with orders now hanging on his hook—an even baker's dozen (13) persons in this community today were waiting arrival of new cars.

COMMISSION TO SPEND BIG SUM ON 700 MILES OF ROAD WORK

Unpaved State Highways to Get Oil Coating Through $600,000 Appropriation

TREATMENT WILL KEEP DOWN DUST

Co-operation of Public Is Asked While Detours Are In Use This Summer

The state highway commission between this date and September 1 will spend $600,000 throughout the state in oil treating some 700 miles of crushed rock and gravel roads, according to announcement at the commission office in Sacramento. The work will be carried on with the least possible inconvenience to the motoring public.

Pointing out that the commission and engineer have approved an extensive program for oiling unpaved state highways, the announcement said that under direction of the maintenance department roads are now being prepared, materials purchased and equipment assembled for this summer work. Sections scheduled for treatment on main routes, interstate connections and important recreational roads will be completed prior to July heavy traffic. In this treatment, the road receives two applications of fuel oil, three to six days usually intervening between each application. The first is left uncovered and allowed to soak into the highway, while the second is immediately covered with fine rock.

"The effective life of the resulting surface is economically justified, not only by the immediate benefits of reduced maintenance and elimination of material loss, but also by the fact that traffic is served by dustless roads whose smoothness rivals that of more expensive construction types," the chief engineer says.

"Wherever possible, suitable detours will be used. Those will be adequately signed and, as the treatment progresses rapidly should be of short duration. Where suitable detours are lacking, the road will be oiled half width for short stretches and one way traffic controls established. Regulation of traffic during this oiling period and the slight inconvenience experienced will be amply repaid by the increased comfort of motoring attendant its completion."

INDIAN DANCES ARE LURE FOR MOTOR DRIVERS

To the motorist, hungry for something that is different, a trip to the ceremonial dances of the Yaqui Indians, at Tucson, Ariz., offers a unique experience, according to recent information received from the touring department of the National Automobile club.

Suggest Morse Code for Best Driving Signals

One of the famous letters to the London Times contains the suggestion that motorists adopt the Morse code in signalling to one another and avoiding accidents.

Three short toots, meaning S, notifies others that the tooting driver is going to stop. A short toot, followed by a long and then a short, is code for R, and would mean a right turn is intended. Similarly L for left turn would be a short toot, a long and two short toots, as every Morse operator knows.

It might be advisable to know the entire code, if this were adopted officially. Then we could save our lungs when we become especially peeved at some road hog, and merely toot him to shame and contrition.

Under the caption, "Build San Juan-Elsinore Road and Open Marvelous Country," the Los Angeles Examiner recently carried the following editorial: "One of the greatest opportunities for scenic road building in Southern California is suggested to The Examiner by a citizen whose judgment in such matters is of the first order. He proposes running a highway from San Juan Capistrano to Elsinore, thus creating a grand circular motor trip out of Los Angeles and return, with one swing of the circuit including the beach drive from Los Angeles south to San Juan, and the other taking in the marvelous

New Equipment For Speedometer Repair Installed

Recognizing the need here for the service, the Orange County Ignition Works has installed complete equipment for servicing speedometers. Most of the speedometer work in this city in the past has been sent to outside points, according to reports.

The local institution is the official station for Northeast speedometers. It carries a large assortment of parts and is prepared to repair all types of speedometers. Special equipment for testing has been provided and testing service will be offered free.

Your Next Car AUBURN America's Fastest Stock Car

Breaks Official A. A. A.
1000 Mile
Stock Car Record
Average 68.37 m.p.h.
125 Miles Ahead of Nearest Competitor

Because so many companies are "making" 75 and 80 miles an hour speed in their advertisements...

Because it is so difficult for even special racing cars to make that speed...

And because Auburn knows how rare such speed is in stock cars, we decided to break the 1000 mile stock car record and give the public definite proof of Auburn's honest speed and durability in an official test, sanctioned by the A. A. A., where speedometer readings are ignored.

This record was held by a Chrysler with the very creditable speed of 59.54 miles per hour... a truly remarkable performance. Auburn breaks this record... breaks it by the liberal margin of 8 1/2 miles per hour... or, with an average of 68.37 M.P.H. beating the former record by two hours, 10 min. and 22 seconds, at Los Angeles Speedway, Culver City, Cal., March 18th.

BUT, WHAT OF IT?

Great and unparalleled, as this performance is, it is ONLY INCIDENTAL with us. Conclusive proof though it is, of one of Auburn's superiorities, yet it is only fragmentary evidence of Auburn's VALUE.

There are about 7000 parts to an automobile. To achieve this record EVERY ONE of these parts in the Auburn had to be of EQUAL quality; had to function with equal efficiency and stand up with equal endurance. THAT is significant. THAT is what underwrites your investment in a car.

We made this speed test not only to establish Auburn's superiority beyond question, but also to PROTECT THE PUBLIC by stopping the wild performance claims being made by some competitors who furnish no proof except of their ability to spend fabulous sums in advertising.

It was a SIMPLE matter for Auburn to make this speed record. In fact a ridiculously easy thing to do, even though spectacular. The important thing is that people will be attracted to the Auburn car, they will compare it point by point; they will DRIVE it and LEARN that Auburn is a BETTER automobile in EVERY respect.

Maybe you do not want to break speed records, but you DO want the built-in stamina; the inherent efficiency that makes such superiority possible. You want the most modernized car; the one that runs smoother; handles easier; rides more comfortably; gives greater value in every way and remains a stranger to the repair shops. You want the most for your money now and the highest resale value later.

Drive the Auburn... if it does not give you ALL that you want better than any other car, you will not be asked to buy.

mountain country that would be traversed.

"Such a motoring possibility lacks only the connection between the famous mission town and Elsinore. The distance is about 25 miles. A dirt road was made in 1915, but the upper section of several miles washed out during a storm occurring not long afterward.

"The present proposal is of a standard state highway, to be a permanent part of the Southern California system. The expense, which would compare favorably with general road construction costs, would be more than justified by results. Consider what these would be:

"There would be a new motor trip with many unique scenic marvels made available.

"On the way from San Juan Capistrano to Elsinore the road would run through one of the most beautiful valleys in California. Winding up the slopes to the inland town there would be many views of the Pacific. Once the heights were reached, the panorama unfolding would be equal to any in this southern area, with many distinctive features.

"The motorist would have in range, all within the same picture, the mighty snow-capped peaks of Old Baldy, San Bernardino, San Geronimo (Grayback) and San Jacinto. From these eminences also there are matchless views of the San Jacinto valley.

"In the unfamiliar mountain districts to be penetrated by such a road are many hot springs famous for their mineral content. It would be a new attraction and blessing to have these made easily accessible to motorists. There would be the opportunity to create along the new highway hot springs resorts and spas fully as beneficial and even more beautiful than those in Europe.

"The trip from Los Angeles by way of Long Beach and the southern coast route to Dana Point, San Juan Capistrano, Elsinore, Corona or Riverside and back again to Los Angeles could be made in a single day's drive. But the ideal thing would be to make it a week-end affair, with one or two night's stop in the great scenic hot springs country.

"This new road possibility is respectfully suggested to the state highway commission."

Bend, Phoenix and Florence, to Tucson, a distance of approximately 600 miles. The Yaqui dances are a series of performances beginning on Wednesday before Easter Sunday and ending at noon on the latter day. The Yaqui Indians are natives of the west coast of Mexico who have drifted north from the rich valleys of the Rio Yaqui and Rio Mayo, from whence they were driven during the regime of the Mexican president, Porfirio Diaz, who granted to foreigners many valuable concessions of land in these valleys and deported the Yaquis in great numbers to the Yucatan district as slaves. Due to its proximity to the international border, Tucson has the oldest settlement of the Indians in the state. The dances are held at the little Indian village of Pascua, just north of Tucson, where about 120 Yaquis live.

In this village the old tribal laws which were in force when the Spanish conquistadores first came amongst them, are still used. A small plaza at the northern end of the village has been enclosed and here the dances are held. The best dancers from all Yaqui settlements in the state attend the annual Easter tribal reunion. The Yaqui, like most primitives, dances to express his emotion but has carried it to a further point than have most Indians. He dances not alone to give vent to his joy or exultation, but to express his grief, hope or depression.

This is well illustrated in the deer dance, the rabbit dance, the antelope dance, and coyote dance. The dancing of the Yaqui has been gradually interwoven into his religious practice and thus has become a part of the observance of some of its rites. The dancers wear grotesque head-dresses of animal heads, or masks, ferocious in appearance; noise producing belts and anklets, and carry short swords or sticks.

Beginning with the first Friday in Lent, when they follow and later accompany the procession of the Via Crucis, they assume different parts in turn, first as soldiers, then as evil spirits, and always as tormentors of the people who are good. The dancers enjoy a large crowd of spectators and put forth their best efforts when encouraged by a large number of visitors. The weird notes of the native flute, the peculiar double roll of the drum, the tum-tum of the beaten gourd and the harsh rasping of the hand gourd keep incessant time with the shuffling steps of the dancers. It is hard to imagine a more unusual scene than the colorful dancers with towering head-dresses, waving in the spring air their bright colored paper flowers and feathers of even brighter hues, shuffling in quick succession, against a dull background of blue and purple mountains which rim a desert of cactus laden mesas.

The governors of Massachusetts and New England are said to be the only state executives legally entitled to be called "His Excellency."

hand to set operating machines to the required measurements and to check up on other forms of gauges.

These Johansson gauges are blocks of steel measuring from as low as one-half of a ten-thousandth of an inch to two feet. In fact, there is one set of Johansson gauges, the only one in the world, which differs in steps of a millionth of an inch. This is so delicate that even the heat of the user's body would influence its length.

Attain True Parallel

The maintenance of accuracy of these gauges is Johansson's secret, although Henry Ford has taken over the rights of American manufacture, and Johansson now is doing this work for Ford. But it is known that the gauges go through a seasoning process of seven years before they are approved as standard.

What is most remarkable is the fact that the opposite surfaces of these gauges are exactly flat and mathematically parallel—one of the grandest achievements in the history of mechanics. So truly flat are the surfaces that, although non-magnetic, they will hold together against a pull of more than 200 pounds.

With these gauges as the foundation of precision another form of gauge is turned out in the automotive plant, for the accurate measurement of engine and other parts. It is called a snap gauge.

This is a steel block made in the form of two C's back to back. The jaws of the gauge, which conform with the edges of the C's, are what take the required measurement of parts. They are therefore made of a hard chromium steel and are ground down parallel to each other and as smooth as possible.

Ten-thousandths of Inch Leeway

One set of jaws, on one side, is "lapped" or rubbed down with the use of a fine carborundum paste, to the exact width between surfaces required of the part it is to measure. On the other side, the surfaces are spaced one ten-thousandth of an inch closer together.

This affords the mechanic a leeway of a ten-thousandth of an inch in the manufacture of his part, although it will be found that the parts come out even closer to the exact requirement than that.

The narrower jaw is called the "Don't Go" side, and has the upper corners chamfered or cut off, so that the mechanic may recognize it by the feel. When he wants to check the measurement of a piston, for instance, he applies it to the "Don't Go" side. The piece must not go through the jaws without being forced.

Then the mechanic puts the same piece through the jaws that are set to the required measurement. If the piston goes through, it is accurate enough for practical purposes.

Meter Enlarges Variation

In some cases, however, certain parts have to be even more precise than this. For their measurement there is a gauge which is in the form of a meter. This meter amplifies the difference from the required dimensions by ten. Thus a piece that must be made accurate to within one one-hundred thousandths of an inch, or one degree on the meter scale, will show up this difference by ten degrees on the scale.

Fine precision measurements are undertaken in checking up the sizes and variations of gears by means of a projector that throws a shadow of the gear and magnifies it from 50 to 400 times. On this screen the engineer can detect the slightest error.

Even the surfaces of flat objects, especially the gauges, have to be checked up at times. For this purpose, the automobile plant has a master flat surface, carefully kept under oil and a cover of felt-lined wood.

It is all a matter of minute detail and extreme care.

haust ports, as openings in the sleeves meet others in the cylinder wall.

Twisting Cylinder

In the Argyl engine, however, only one sleeve is adjusted so that it moves in a spiral, making a twist of almost 60 degrees while moving up or down along the cylinder wall and opening or closing the intake or exhaust ports by means of openings at the top. The engines in use in American automobiles today are all of the four-cycle type. Originally, these were called "four-stroke-cycle" engines, because the piston made four strokes in each cycle of the engine's operation. A cycle, in this case, is the complete action that takes place in each cylinder. This consists of two upward and two downward motions of the piston in the following order: 1—intake of gasoline when the piston goes down; 2—compression as piston goes up; 3—power as piston goes down; 4—exhaust of used gas as piston goes up.

Power at Each Stroke

Only the third stroke is effective in propelling the car. The other downward stroke is practically waste. The two-cycle engine makes every downward stroke a power stroke.

In this case, the cycle consists of: 1—up, or compression, stroke; 2—down, or power, stroke.

It is while the piston is on its way down that both the exhaust and intake valves are opened by the moving sleeve, permitting the exhaustion of the used gas and the entrance of the new gas. The exhaust valve is opened slightly before the inlet, so that the cylinder may be almost entirely cleared of the used gas before the unused gas comes in.

Longer life, less power to drive, silence, less carbon deposit, greater fuel efficiency are some of the advantages claimed for this type of engine. Tests have shown that a small motor developing 20 horsepower at 3000 revolutions a minute, in an average small car, will give 30 miles to a gallon of gasoline.

SANTA ANA MUSICAL CLUBS WIN HONORS AT FULLERTON EISTEDDFOD COMPETITION

Five Santa Ana musical organizations and two Santa Ana individuals have placed in the Orange county eisteddfod, being held at Fullerton. The contest closes today. Three of the Santa Ana awards were made in the senior division and four in the junior division. The music contest at Fullerton started Thursday. The senior division is being heard in the high school auditorium and the junior division in the auditorium of the Wilshire grammar school at Fullerton.

Y. M. C. A. Men Sing

Santa Ana organization won both places in the Men's chorus division. The Santa Ana Chorus club won first and the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. chorus taking second. The choir of the First Methodist church of Santa Ana was awarded first prize in the sacred music division.

Frances E. Willard junior high school choristers took second and the mixed chorus of Santa Ana elementary schools was awarded fourth place in the chorus division of the elementary department. Glenn Gardner, of Santa Ana, won third in the contest for boys with untrained voices, and Miss Madeline Winchell, of Santa Ana, was awarded third in the contest for girls under 14 years of age.

Several hundred musicians from all parts of the county are taking part in the Eisteddfod, the second annual one to be held in the county.

Representatives from practically all sections of the county have placed in the contests. The Orange County Music Teachers' association is sponsoring the event.

The Ebbl club, of Fullerton, was the winner of first place in the woman's chorus division yesterday.

The Orange Woman's club was awarded second and the La Habra Woman's club third.

Miss Myrtle Rockwell, of La Habra, outclassed all other competitors in the dramatic soprano class in the senior division and was chosen to represent Orange county in a contest in Los Angeles in the near future.

The Boys' Glee club of the Huntington Beach elementary schools placed first in the junior chorus division. Frances E. Willard junior high school singers, of Santa Ana, were awarded second; the Girls' glee club of Huntington Beach elementary schools, third, and the elementary schools mixed chorus of Santa Ana, fourth.

Billie McCormack, of Huntington Beach, was named first in the contest for boys with untrained voices. Harold Gerdes, of Los Alamitos, was second, and Glenn Gardner, of Santa Ana, third.

Roger Berdelman, of Huntington Beach, was first in the contest for boys with changed voices. Everett Pearce, of Tustin, was second. William Gullock, of Yorba Linda, was third.

Ruth Shaver, of Anaheim, carried away honors in the singing contest for girls under 14 years of age. Katherine McCullah, of Anaheim, was second and Madeline Winchell, of Santa Ana, third.

Alice Ashley, of Anaheim, was first in the contest for girls between the ages of 14 and 18 years. Melva Fisher, of Orange, was awarded second, and Winifred Beebe, of Anaheim, took third.

NEW MODEL REO PROVING POPULAR

everywhere has been so great that the factory has not been able to produce them fast enough to meet the orders," Finley declared.

Pointing out that there are only two models in the new line—the sedan and brougham—Finley said it was expected the company soon would put out a roadster and coupe.

"Mechanically the Flying Cloud has many innovations, at least one of which will be exclusively on Reos during this year," Finley said. "The Lockheed hydraulic four-wheel brakes are manufactured expressly for Reo under new patents which give much greater braking effectiveness than the ordinary type of four-wheel hydraulic brake. For the first time Reo has felt that a four-wheel braking system has been devised which measures up to the high standards of the rest of the car, and that is the reason they were adopted."

"They are of the internal expanding type on all four wheels, and exert such a tremendous stopping force that with little exertion on the brake pedal that it gives passengers the effect of having been brought to a dead stop from mid-flight. But in spite of its powerful action, there is no side-sway or skidding, whether the road be dry or wet."

"Riding comfort has been made another strong point in the new Reo, and I defy anyone to guess within 20 miles an hour of the speed the car is traveling. An extra inch has been added to the wheelbase and the engineers have taken advantage of this to make the rear spring an inch longer, which helped to make this riding ease possible. Added to this are hydraulic shock absorbers on all four wheels."

"Freedom from vibration has been assured by use of seven-bearing crankshaft, statically and dynamically balanced, and with a vibration damper in addition to smoothing any tendency toward shaft vibration. The motor is hung low in the frame from four rubber-insulated supporting brackets which are attached to the frame from side channels."

REPORT SHOWS WORK DONE BY RELIEF SOCIETY

Indicative of the volume of work carried on in the county by the Crippled Children's Relief Association of Orange County are facts and figures contained in the monthly report of Mrs. Gertrude Crowell, Fullerton, field superintendent of the association, read at the regular board meeting, held yesterday afternoon in the Elks clubhouse in Anaheim.

According to the report, the association has 33 active cases under treatment and two under advisement, pending recommendations of specialists following examinations.

Of the total number of active cases, 17 are boys, 15 girls and one adult. Nine cases, necessitating surgical operations, are being treated in the hospital. The remaining 24 cases are patients, who, having been released from the hospital, are given treatments at their respective homes in different parts of the county. The home patients were distributed as follows:

Santa Ana, nine; Anaheim, six; Fullerton, three; Orange, three; Placentia, two; and Yorba Linda, one.

The greater number of children cared for by the association, the report revealed, are of Mexican parentage.

President Harry D. Riley, of Anaheim, presided over the meeting. Earl S. Morrow, Santa Ana, vice president, reported on legislation pending in the state legislature, providing relief for crippled and other physically handicapped children.

Officials of American Federation of Labor told senate judiciary committee that the laboring men want light wines and beer.

IN MOTOR CARS."

Charm

THAT WOMEN OF WEALTH and social position the world over have shown so pronounced a preference for Packard cars is a tribute to Packard's grace and beauty.

There is an irresistible charm in the simple dignity of Packard lines—a slender, thoroughbred appearance as appealing to the man of affairs as to the woman of fashion. But the real secret of Packard's universal attraction goes beyond the design and proportions which have been so widely imitated.

The prestige reflected by a generation of distinguished owners; the reputation achieved through more than a quarter century of engineering leadership; the luxurious fineness in every detail of body and chassis; the superpower of the smooth and silent motor; its alert response on hill or crowded boulevard—

These qualities all contribute to that charm which leads the discriminating man or woman to Packard ownership.

- ① All steel body, custom design, with deep drawn steel stampings forming beautiful curved lines at the back, and curved side members carried over the top, constituting the finest possible body construction. Body trimmings of Bedford cord and broad cloth. Novel instrument board in duotone colors, with cigarette and glove boxes built in, gasoline gauge and customary instruments. Fine hardware and interior decoration. Entire body much superior to any competitive $1,000 job ever offered in America. Comparisons are urgedly invited and will prove convincing.
- ② Chassis of modern simplified design. Material and workmanship of Studebaker quality throughout, comparable to the finest obtainable. Self-energizing four-wheel brakes, nickel plated bumpers front and rear, motorometer, beautiful crown fenders, and numerous other quality features never before furnished in a $1,000 car.
- ③ Beauty and smartness characterize the car. The body, fenders and general outlines were designed by R. H. Dietrich, one of the foremost custom body designers of the country. The car has irresistible style appeal. It created a sensation at all of the European automobile shows and the shows in this country, where it was viewed by over two million people.
- ④ The performance of the car is remarkably efficient and much superior to most, if not all, cars in the $1,000 field. It will accelerate from 5 to 25 miles in 8½ seconds; climb an 11% grade in high gear and develop 60 miles per hour. It is free from mechanical defects and will stay out of the repair shop.
- ⑤ The car is well balanced, with scientific spring suspension and seat cushioning. The result is the superior riding qualities of the big, high priced cars. In riding comfort, the car is equaled by few, if any, small cars on the market.
- ⑥ The price of $995 f. o. b. Detroit is low compared with half a dozen other Sixes selling for more money. Actual comparisons with such cars, ranged alongside an Erskine, will demonstrate the truth of this assertion.

If you appreciate quality and value, examine and drive an ERSKINE SIX before you buy any car this Spring

SECRETARY OF REALTY BOARD GIVES UP JOB

The resignation of H. J. Selway as treasurer of the Santa Ana Realty Board, was accepted at the meeting yesterday of the organization, and Rex Kennedy was elected his successor. Selway has been in ill health for some months, and this was responsible for his resignation. He has held the position a number of years.

Interesting high lights of the session in Bakersfield recently of the board of directors of the California Real Estate association were presented by Herbert Allenman.

Plans were discussed briefly for the membership drive to be made by the organization next week, when every board in the state will conduct such a campaign.

With W. B. Martin as program chairman, a special program was provided with musical numbers by the Misses Georgia Bell and Marjorie Walton, and an address by the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church.

In his talk the pastor pointed out that discourtesy by a real estate broker formed a wall across his front door that prevented him doing business. Discourtesy and other acts that tend to drive one away from the "front door" were compared in their effects with the famous wall built on the frontier of Northern China.

LOCKE, BARBER IN RACE AT BERKELEY

BERKELEY, April 9.—With Roland Locke and Phil Barber competing as a side attraction, the west's first big intersection track and field meet of the season was to be held here this afternoon with Nebraska and California as competitors.

A clear, cool day was in prospect, and cinderpath enthusiasts hoped to see Locke break his own world's record in the 220, or better Charley Paddock's in the 100 yard event.

Nebraska was presenting a potentially stronger team than California, but strangely, the Bears were slight favorites. The Cornhuskers had participated in only four outdoor workouts this season and are a long ways from the peak of condition.

How's She Hitting? Lints On Car Care

BY ISRAEL KLEIN
Science Editor, NEA Service
When the car develops a knock, especially when laboring against a grade or at starting, it is not always at fault.

This knock is called an "ignition knock," and can be identified by its hard, metallic sound. It is not always due to any carbon in the cylinder.

If the engine is in good shape, however, and the knock occurs, it is more than likely due to lack of proper engineering on the part of the driver.

Many drivers forget that there is a spark lever at their steering wheels, to be manipulated at just such emergencies.

When the engine is speeded up, the spark must be advanced. But when it slows down, as on laboring up a hill or in starting, the spark must be retarded so that the ignition will be timed properly with the compression of the fuel in each cylinder.

Most power is obtained when the spark ignites the compressed gas while the piston is at the very top of its stroke.

But when the engine is running fast, the piston has a tendency to be well on its downward stroke before the gas has had time to explode. This is due not only to speed and momentum of the piston and flywheel, but to the fact that there is a slight delay in the explosion of the gas, even after the spark has ignited it.

In other words, there is first what engineers call a "flash point," when the gas is ignited, and then comes the "fire point," when the gas explodes.

There is loss of power if the explosion takes place after the piston has started down. So the remedy is to advance the spark so that the flash will occur slightly before the piston reaches the top, and the fire will take place just as the piston is ready to go down.

If the spark is advanced too far, however, the fire, or explosion, occurs before the piston arrives at the top, making it necessary for the other pistons and the flywheel to force this one on its way up against the force of the exploded gas, thus causing the well-known knock.

This occurs mostly when the engine is slowed down by the force of its pull up hill, or against the entire weight of the car on starting. When this happens, the position of the spark that had been proper now become too far advanced and the knock occurs.

The remedy is to retard the spark, but only enough to overcome the knock. Retarding the spark too far causes loss of power.

Control of the spark, however, should always follow the throttle control. That is, the engine should never be speeded up by advancing the spark, or slowed down by retarding it. The throttle should do that.

Then, as the engine varies its speed slower or faster, the spark lever should be manipulated accordingly.

SANTA ANA BOY IN NEW L. A. LAW FIRM

Announcement was made yesterday in Los Angeles of the formation of a new law firm to be known as Dryer, Castle, McConlogue and Richards, taking over the business of the former firm of Dryer, Castle and Hartke.

George W. Dryer, the senior member, is an old Santa Ana boy, the son of Mrs. John L. Dryer. Dryer graduated from Santa Ana high school, and later from Stanford University where he took his law course. He has been practicing in Los Angeles for 23 years where he has participated in various activities, among them the Los Angeles Orthopaedic Foundation of which he has been president since its inception.

Castle is also a graduate of Stanford University and Stanford Law School and was formerly connected with the legal staff of the Southern Pacific company, and also was formerly trust counsel for Title Insurance and Trust company.

McConlogue is a graduate of Notre Dame and Iowa Law School, and will give special attention to incorporation, municipal and street improvement bonds, to which work he has devoted most of his time for some years past.

Richards is a graduate of Yale and Stanford Law School.

Bruce Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Wallace, formerly of Santa Ana, will be associated with the firm. Wallace graduated from Santa Ana High school, Pomona College and Stanford Law School, and was recently admitted to the practice.

The Finest Eight Performance without Penalty of High Cost

UNTIL the coming of the Hupmobile Eight, this most luxurious form of motoring entailed both high first cost and prohibitive cost of upkeep.

Hupmobile changed all previous conceptions of eight-cylinder performance with a straight-eight of elemental simplicity, designed to give superior smoothness on long fuel mileage.

Thus Hupmobile removed the last obstacles which had prevented thousands from driving an eight, demonstrated its superiority over the higher-priced sixes, and won the largest straight-eight following in the world.

The only way to appreciate the vast difference between Hupmobile Eight and lesser types is to drive this Eight yourself.

LITIGATION IN BUILDING DEAL AT L. B. FADES

Litigation between Knute B. Norswing, Fullerton rancher, and W. D. Mitchell, late gubernatorial candidate from Fresno, over a deal for a Long Beach skyscraper, was cleared away this week to a considerable extent, with disposal of two of the three lawsuits between them. Both of the cases settled were victories for Norswing.

In a decision by Superior Judge E. J. Marks, on file today, the suit brought by Norswing against Mitchell to cancel an agreement for the exchange of 254 acres of land in Orange county and Los Angeles, belonging to Norswing, for the six-story Markwell building in the heart of Long Beach, which building belonged to Mitchell at one time.

Norswing charged, in his suit, that the building and its site had been misrepresented; that Mitchell could not give title to him, as he had already sold the building to another party, and that liabilities against the building had been fraudulently concealed. He demanded that he be given a clear title to his own property that had figured in the deal, and also asked judgment for $50,000, which he claimed to have loaned Mitchell. The suit was brought against Mitchell and the Markwell building company, the stock of which was held by Mitchell.

Before the suit came to trial, a deal was announced, whereby the Markwell building was purchased by the Jergens Trust company, of Long Beach at a figure announced to be $800,000.

After the trial, which was held several months ago, Judge Marks took the case under advisement. His decision, just rendered, was a clear victory for Norswing. All papers in the deal were ordered cancelled and Norswing got judgment for $50,000 against Mitchell. The court ordered Norswing to return the Markwell building stock to Mitchell. No judgment was allowed against the Markwell building company, which was awarded its costs in the case.

Simultaneously with the court's decision, came a dismissal of a second suit, brought by Mitchell against Norswing. In this action Mitchell charged Norswing with breach of contract in the same deal and demanded $800,000 damages. The sum named was supposed to represent the difference between what Mitchell would have received for the Markwell building had the deal with Norswing gone through, and what he actually received for the building from the Jergens Trust company. The case had been scheduled for trial this week before Judge Marks.

A kindred action, the third that developed over the same deal, remains on the calendar of Superior Judge James L. Allen's court for trial in the near future. It also involves a huge sum, $800,000 actual damages and $100,000 punitive damages, demanded by Mitchell against Norswing for alleged conspiracy to defraud. Louis Handelmann, Los Angeles real estate dealer, is named defendant with Norswing as the other party to the alleged conspiracy.

Allegations of the remaining complaint are much similar to the two disposed of. Mitchell claims that Norswing and Handelmann plotted to force Mitchell to sell the Markwell building at a price far below its real value, which Mitchell claims was $1,700,000. It was further planned, says Mitchell, that Norswing would step in and buy the skyscraper after forcing its price down. The price was forced down by the filing of a suit in Los Angeles county to quiet title to the property. Norswing filed this suit, it is stated, and, according to Mitchell, it was intended to cloud the title rather than clear it, as Norswing never had any real claim upon the property. With the title thus clouded the building's value was reduced.

But the Jergens Trust company, not Norswing, got it. Mitchell claims it was sold for $800,000, causing him a loss of $800,000.

PROGRAM FOR S. A. CONCERT IS ANNOUNCED

With such composers as Verdi, Schubert, Keler-Bela and Waldteufel represented in the program, the concert in the Ebell club auditorium, at 3 p. m., tomorrow, by the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra, will be the most artistic and elaborate concert of the series given by the musical organization, according to D. C. Cianfoni, director. The third movement of the "Sinfonia Allegria" (Cianfoni) also will be played.

Among the composers mentioned, Schubert is the most outstanding, in the opinion of the director.

"His distinction is two-fold—he created the song as we know it and more than any other composer he influenced the development of romantic movements," Cianfoni said. "Apart from such technical matters as his harmonies, modulations, instrumentation and the like, under all of which heads he made striking advances, he breathed into these established forms a spirit of romance, a yearning, wistful personal note of lyric tenderness and fervor, whereby they are distinguished from all earlier compositions of their kind."

The "Unfinished Symphony," which will be played tomorrow afternoon, is one of Schubert's best symphonic compositions and will be played by request.

Mrs. Alfred G. Burton, soprano soloist, will sing "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" (Liddle) and "Thank God for a Garden" (Del Riego). She will be accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Armstrong and on the violin by Leon Eckles.

Following is the program:
Overture, Hungarian Lustspiel (Keler-Bela); "Unfinished Symphony" (Schubert); third movement Sinfonia Allegria (Cianfoni); vocal solos, by Mrs. Burton; waltz, "Les Patineurs" (Waldteufel), and grand selection "Traviata" (Verdi).

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, April 9.—A son was born Tuesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Case, of Whittier. Mrs. Case, before her marriage, was Miss Florence Larter. News of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mansperger, of Hemet, reached Westminster Wednesday morning. The baby has been named Rose May. The Manspergers were residents here at one time.

Much interest was manifested in the awarding of prizes Wednesday for the best essay written on the evil effects of alcohol and tobacco on the human mind and body. These essays were written by boys and girls of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, awards being made by women from the W. C. T. U. Muriel Wardlow won first prize of $2 for the sixth grade, Albert Schietecatte, $1 for the fifth grade, second prize, Dorothy Morgan, seventh grade, won the first prize for the seventh and eighth grade group, and Phyllis Day, eighth grade pupil, had second.

The Lord's Supper will be observed Sunday in the Presbyterian church here, and one of the newly elected elders, Thomas S. Hosack, will be ordained.

Mrs. W. B. McCoy and daughter, Miss Helen, have returned from a two-day trip to Hollywood, Van Nuys and Westwood, where they visited relatives.

Mrs. O. B. Byram is staying at present in Glendale, where she is helping to care for the two small children of her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Byram, who are visiting in Texas with a view of interesting friends and relatives there in their missionary needs in Kansas.

A fine stage curtain was put in place Wednesday to be in readiness for the library play. Another curtain furnishing a most pleasing background for the stage setting, has been painted in colors by Mrs. Mary H. Thomason, one of the teachers at the school. It portrays an outdoor scene.

Campaign material for a canvass of the community for library funds, is in readiness and some of the workers were busy Tuesday morning. Everywhere pledge cards were taken, to be signed and returned, and Albert Moog, prominent rancher, of the Deer Lodge, gave $50 for the fund, which makes $175 already subscribed. Everyone visited was very enthusiastic over the proposed civic building, and the committee members returned to homes assured of the community's loyal support. A number of different groups will be active within the next few days, and it is expected that within a week or 10 days a sufficient sum will be pledged to assure the building of the new library.

A pretty affair was given Wednesday afternoon here in the home of Mrs. George Francis, commencing with a joint stork shower, Mrs. R. F. Johnson and Mrs. M. C. Engel. Flowers were used to effectively decorate the Francis home, and after an afternoon of games, ice cream and cake were served to the guests. The affair was a surprise to both the honorees, who received some very pretty gifts. Guests were Mrs. Ray Burke, Mrs. Addie Hicks, of Bakersfield, Mrs. F. W. Williams, Mrs. J. A. Knapp, Mrs. Frank L. King, and Mrs. King, Mrs. W. C. Hannagan, Mrs. L. W. Walker, Mrs. H. H. Sands, Mrs. Claire Wardlow and the two honorees.

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

A More Distinctive Style in Motor Cars—Achieved by Nash

For those who hope to find their cars at the very peak of style and luxury, Nash has created this charming Special Sedan on the Special Six Chassis.

Its graceful profile suggests the custom-car design of Parisian boulevards. Here is the low-swung French-profile effect so desirable today.

Every interior detail is luxurious. The upholstery is tailored in exquisite Mohair Velvet. Window mouldings, door panels and instrument board are in walnut finish. And there is a walnut steering wheel.

And the way this car performs is every bit as enjoyable as its sparkling style.

It has the Nash 7-bearing motor—as do all Nash models—for superlative smoothness at every speed.

It has the Nash tubular-trussed frame, for extra strength and steadiness, to guard the body from destructive strains.

And it has power! Nash models, all of them, have extra power for exhilarating acceleration, on the hills, and in the traffic.

Compare this car to others sold at this surprisingly moderate price and you cannot fail to decide you would rather have the Nash.

Why Safety Glass "all around"

MOTOR CARS—motor cars. Millions of motor cars scurrying over the roads of the country. Millions of drivers at their wheels—careful drivers, reckless drivers—sometimes drunken drivers. Responsible owners and irresponsible owners. Sensible men and show-offs.

Amongst them, your car, your family, you. Precious lives. Exposed, despite your watchfulness, to the incompetence, the carelessness, the foolhardiness of others.

Is it right to withhold from them and from yourself any available protection, any procurable security?

The New Safety Stutz alone provides maximum defense. Just one of its safety features, Protex Safety Glass, costs the makers an extra quarter million dollars a year.

Yet all this surpassing security is plus value—plus the ultra-low smartness of line, plus the road-smoothing riding ease, plus the easy-as-wishing control, plus the dogged dependability and the marvelous performance.

A complete line of standard, de luxe and custom-built body styles, meeting every possible requirement of style, body appointments and price. The choice of 60 body styles and appointments, with unlimited combinations in many of the models.

Billy Evans Says

VETERAN SURPRISES

Trying to explain the business of pitching is a difficult task. One of the veteran twirlers who looked very impressive in the south was Sam Jones of the St. Louis Browns.

Last season with the pennant winning New York Yankees, Jones won only nine games and lost eight. No doubt Miller Huggins figured Sam had seen his best days when he consented to a trade.

Manager Dan Howley of the Browns was willing to gamble with the veteran and it appears he is going to cash in on the transaction. Howley figured Jones is not a good relief pitcher. He did much of that work as a Yankee.

"Take your own time about getting into condition. Tell me when you are ready. During the season you will pitch only in your regular turn."

That is what I heard Howley tell Jones in the early days of the spring training at Tarpon Springs, Fla.

EXPLAIN THIS?

Howley's system relative to Jones is apparently the correct one for he has already turned in a number of brilliant performances.

The records show that the best year that Sam Jones ever enjoyed in the majors was in 1921, when he won 23 and lost 16, with a club that finished fourth, the Boston Red Sox.

On the strength of that fine showing with just an ordinary ball club, he was purchased by the New York Yankees.

The following season with a club infield better, Jones could do no better than break even, winning and losing 13 games. The Yanks won the pennant that season.

Try to explain that one if you can.

MORE PUZZLES

Along the same lines you have often seen a pitcher get knocked out of the box in the first inning, only to come back the next day and shut out the same team.

Often the exact reverse happens. I have seen pitchers perform so stylishly in the first game of a double header, that the manager uses them in the second game with disastrous results.

There really is no plausible way to explain these happenings. They are just the breaks of the game.

BIG YEAR AHEAD

I wouldn't be at all surprised if Sam Jones had a big year with the St. Louis Browns. I have definite reasons for thinking so.

Jones is one of those peculiar types who does his best work when he pitches free. In other words, when nonchalant he is more effective than when he tightens up.

When on edge, Jones has the fault of making the ball too good. Batters know it and get a toe hold. This doesn't happen when Sam is flipping the ball in a care-free manner.

On a team fighting for a pennant it is a habit for pitchers to tighten up. The Browns hardly loom as a pennant contender, and Sam is certain to work more natural.

Ty Cobb once told me that he regarded Sam Jones as the greatest stylist among major league pitchers. Quite a compliment.

ATHLETICS LOOK LIKE A. L. WINNERS TO FARRELL WITH YANKS SECOND, NATS THIRD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 9.—Fifth five new managers handling clubs in a league that has been reorganized almost entirely, a prediction of the outcome of the American league championship races involves more than the ordinary risks. It would be a simpler and more pleasing process to act like the bookmakers and establish two clubs on the same odds as the favorites for the championship.

Giants Plan Legal Fight For Hornsby

NEW YORK, April 9.—John Heydler, president of the National league, announced today that the controversy over Rogers Hornsby's stockholdings had been settled satisfactorily to all concerned.

Under the terms of the settlement, Hornsby's stock will be purchased by Sam Breadon, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, in which Hornsby owns 1167 shares.

Concessions were made by all the parties to the dispute—Hornsby, the New York Giants and the Cardinals.

NEW YORK, April 9.—With baseball teams returning from their southern training camps to open the championship season on Tuesday prospect of legal warfare today threatened to involve the National league in a serious mud-sling.

Acting in behalf of their new second baseman, Rogers Hornsby, the New York Giants will go into court Monday to seek a temporary injunction restraining the league and its president, John A. Heydler, from interfering with Hornsby's appearance in the New York line-up.

LOCAL COLLEGE DROPS OPENING BASEBALL TIEF

Baffled by the hooks and "sinkers" of "Bunny" Pierce, talented Riverside deceiver, the Santa Ana junior college baseball team got off on the wrong foot yesterday in its first game of the Southern California Junior College conference season, losing to the Riverside collegians, 8 to 4. The game was played at Riverside.

Pierce was absolutely invincible except in two instances when Santa Ana players reached him for timely base knocks that meant scores. The Riverside moundman held the locals to three bingles and sent 19 of them on the long, lonely tramp back to the bench.

Henrik Van Rensselaer, captain, was the lone Santa Anaan able to give Pierce any trouble. Van Rensselaer hit safely twice.

Santa Ana's next start will be against Pasadena junior college at the local park.

Coach Graham Harris' outfit draws a bye next week and will not make another league bid until April 23 when it faces Citrus junior at the local park.

STANFORD FAVORED TO WIN CONFERENCE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., April 9.—Eight little Southern California schools today were allied against a big goliath of the Pacific Coast track and field world—Stanford—and while all the dope is against them they refuse to concede defeat.

Stanford regards the competition against the Southern conference all-stars as merely a workout preparatory to the dual meet with California next Saturday and one with U. S. C. the following week.

AUBURN SETS NEW STOCK CAR RECORD WITH AVERAGE OF 68.37 FOR FULL 1000 MILES

Mechanics putting oil in crankcase of Auburn Straight-eight just before it started race at Culver City that ended in the car winning the world's 1000 mile race. The Auburn was powered by Lightning gasoline and Rainbow motor oil. The car consumed 100 gallons of gasoline, an average of 10 miles to the gallon, considered by officials of the race as a remarkable feat. Seven and a half quarts of Rainbow 100 per cent pure Pennsylvania, were used.

96 BOYS ATTEND Y SWIM CLASSES

Ninety-six boys have taken advantage of the free swimming instruction at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. this week. More than 100 were enrolled, but some of them failed to keep up their attendance, according to Boys' Secretary T. P. McKee.

Of the 96 who reported for instruction, 77 learned to swim well enough to cross the plunge at least once, which is the requirement for a beginner. Others will require some further instruction before they can qualify, but nearly every boy who entered the classes has shown improvement in his work in the water. A few have been able to swim the full length of the pool.

New week, it was announced, the boys from outside of the city of Santa Ana will have an opportunity to take free swimming lessons. Invitations have been sent to the schools in Tustin, Garden Grove, Westminster, Costa Mesa, Greenville and other nearby parts in the county.

All the boys who wish to take the free instruction are requested to be at the Y. M. C. A. building, at 9 o'clock Monday morning, at which time they will be assigned to classes for instruction to be given during the week.

In the opinion of A. L. Hart, of the Hart Motor Car company, Auburn dealer in Orange county, the Auburn demonstrated itself the fastest stock car in America when a straight eight stock model at Culver City recently reeled off 1000 miles at an average speed of 68.37 miles an hour.

Wade Morton was the driver and he broke the former record by the liberal margin of eight and a half miles an hour.

"The new record places the Auburn 125 miles ahead of its nearest competitor," Hart said. "The speed test was run during a hard sand storm, blinding the driver and, at times, making it almost impossible for spectators to see the car as it whirled past. The Auburn averaged 71.85 miles an hour for the first 300 miles, before the storm became so severe. I confidently believe that under favorable circumstances Morton would have averaged 85 miles an hour."

"The average man cannot, in the wildest flight of fancy, imagine what 1000 miles of continuous sustained speed really means. That is farther than from Chicago to New York by railroad. The fastest train requires 30 hours for the trip and must change engines several times to do it. But one Auburn stock car negotiated even a greater distance in six hours less time, including the time required for seven stops for fuel, tires and driver relief."

Hart pointed out that the record-breaking performance was only an incident, and he belittles it, even in saying that the significant thing

PEAVEY ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AT BEACH

In continuing the orchestra try-outs at the Rendezvous ballroom, Balboa Beach, H. B. Tudor announced that tonight's music would be furnished by Peavey's orchestra, which has just completed a three-year engagement in New York, following former engagements at the Roseland Gardens, Winnipeg, and the Arcadia, at St. Paul.

Tudor said that this orchestra furnished the music at a dance given for the Prince of Wales during his visit in this country. Beginning Sunday afternoon and continuing next week and over Easter week end, the music will be alternated each night between this orchestra and the U. S. C. Southlanders. The latter orchestra furnished the dance music at the Rendezvous Easter week end last year.

with the Boston Red Sox, he was the best in the American league. The other two-time winner among the American league pitchers was none other than the late Rube Waddell, noted almost as much for his eccentricities as his pitching, and there never was a better southpaw. Waddell won his spurs in 1903-05.

Perhaps an even better example of what a difficult task it is to be the winning pitcher in more than one year, is shown by the National league records covering the last 12 years. During that period there hasn't been a single pitcher to repeat.

World's 1000 Mile record won with Lightning Gasoline

Auburn 8-88 Runs Ten Hundred Miles in 14 Hours, 37 Minutes!

OFFICIALLY OK'd by the A. A. A., automotive industry's highest authority, Auburn 8-88 stock touring car captured world's 1000-mile record on Culver City racetrack March 19.

One thousand miles in 877 minutes—at an average speed of 68.37 miles per hour, including all stops! Auburn captured the Times silver trophy formerly held by another make of car that averaged 59.52 miles per hour.

Lightning gasoline and Rainbow motor oil were selected by Driver Wade Morton to propel the Auburn to victory. Results delivered by Lightning and Rainbow, the Speed Twins, may be realized when this comparison is made:

Chicago-New York Twentieth Century Limited makes 980 miles in 20 hours.
Auburn 8-88 made 1000 miles in 14 hours, 37 minutes.

Driver Morton, who has raced Duesenbergs five times at Indianapolis, and who recently captured the Los Angeles-San Diego record, in 2 hours, 8 minutes, said: "To win a race the best gas and oil obtainable must be used. The experienced racer can take no chances; he must have the highest quality products on the market. I chose Lightning gasoline because, in tryouts, I found it to be a veritable 'thunderbolt of power' and I found Rainbow oil to be 100% Pure Penn."

The new Auburn is "the talk of the motor world" today. And, Lightning, in a three-year test, is becoming "California's Favorite Gasoline," giving both sustained high power and long, economical mileage.

Look for Lightning pumps throughout Los Angeles and all the way from Ventura in the North to San Diego in the South!

Two New Parts in DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR Tell Important Story

NOTICE THESE TWO PICTURES The small part is a new exhaust valve—now used on all Dodge engines. Also on all fine aeroplane engines. Made of alloy steel, containing silicon and chromium, it costs four times as much as the valve it replaces.

The other is Dodge Brothers new five-bearing crankshaft. Made of costly chrome vanadium steel. One of the finest shafts in any engine.

EACH TELLS AN IMPORTANT STORY

The small part typifies hundreds of similar refinements made by Dodge Brothers during the past two years... endless detailed improvements, never spoken of, rarely observed by the layman, but vitally important in their total effect on performance and dependability.

With the new crankshaft, many other major improvements could be listed. A new silent-type clutch. A new two-unit starting system. Smarter and stancher body design. Bright new colors. Comfort-tilt seats. New silent-type muffler. New steering ease. Softer pedal action. New air cleaner. Improved engine mounting. New design propeller shaft, differential, axle shafts... and many others.

Drive the car now! Experience its new zest and flexibility—marked ease of operation—pronounced comfort—and the striking new smoothness and silence of the motor at all speeds!

DODGE COMPLETES WORLD'S LONGEST AUTOMOBILE PLANT

Interior of Dodge Brothers' mammoth factory in which the company's new line of higher-priced cars will be built. The building is said to be the longest motor car assembly plant in the world. Machinery installation is being rushed so the new cars may make their debut by July 1—and 'tis said the new car is to be a six. The building is a one-story structure planned in accordance with the latest principles of factory construction. Over 500,000 square feet of floor space will be added to Dodge Brothers' already immense manufacturing facilities when the new factory becomes one of the company's producing units.

PROMOTION OF HEALTH AIDED BY MOTORING

Although fatalities and accidents attributable to motor vehicles are generally deplored and for the most part are preventable, there is a big story of health promotion and prolonging of life on the other side that is rarely emphasized, according to reports reaching the Automobile Club of Southern California.

While it is obviously impossible to obtain exact figures, some fairly accurate conclusions may be reached from those at hand. These show that the automobile, instead of being a Juggernaut running amuck through the country, in reality is probably the most beneficent thing of human kind of modern times.

It is pointed out that while there were nearly 22,000 deaths from motor vehicles last year in the United States, this is only one fatality for every 1000 motor vehicles in use, and only one life sacrificed to every 10,000,000 miles of travel. The injuries approximate one for every 200 autos in use, and these travel approximately 2,000,000 miles before the injury is involved. Roughly estimating that 30 years of life are sacrificed in each death, it is found that automobiles in the United States are charged with the responsibility of 600,000 lost years for the entire population.

The other side of the story is far more cheerful as physicians and economists give the automobile credit for adding several years of life to the family by which it is owned in addition to aiding in the general health of that family. However, allowing only one year of additional life to each person using an automobile, it is shown that 50,000,000 years are added to the total life of residents of the United States. Thus it is shown that the years of life lost through operation of the 22,000,000 motor vehicles in the United States represent only 1.2 per cent of the gain, making a most conservative estimate of possible years gained and giving a liberal allowance for years sacrificed. But it is possible to make the benefits of motoring 100 per cent by careful driving, says the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Portland People Canine Admirers

PORTLAND, Ore., April 9.—Portlanders must be lovers of dogs, judging from records here which show that 7211 canines in the city have been deemed worthy of a license. Of these animals 6410 are males, requiring a license fee of $3 and the rest are females, which are licensed at a cost of $5. The new figures represent a 2000 over last year.

WAS CRASHING NOTE
MANSFIELD, England, April 9.—While playing her piano in her apartment here, the wife of a town councilman was astonished when the instrument, without warning, dropped through the floor. The house was built only three years ago. "And I was only playing light music, too," the woman said. "I would probably have wrecked the entire building with Rachmaninoff's Prelude."

German Amateur Painters Show Work In Berlin

BERLIN, April 9.—Artistic hobby-riders of Berlin are showing their pictures to the public for the first time.

Captains of industry, stage folk, cabaret artists, men of letters, poets, petty government officials, and even a plain chauffeur, are among the "painters who are no painters." Although looking upon painting merely as an avocation, 28 amateurs banded themselves together and arranged for an exhibition of their work—more than 100 water colors, oil paintings and pen and pencil sketches.

Monumental canvases by Albert Steinerueck, former director of the court theater at Vienna and one of the best-known actors in Berlin, depict chiefly Italian scenes. Gertrud Eysoldt, interpreter of Salome and Puck roles, exhibited a portrait of her mother, besides several small sketches.

"I am passionately fond of painting," Fraulein Eysoldt confided. "I sometimes get up three times during the night to work at a canvas. I take a childlike delight in seeing my work develop—much more than I can ever take in success on the stage."

One of the unique works is that by Otto Hanke, a chauffeur. Instead of brush and colors, Hanke chose strands of wool for his material, mounting them in such a manner as to produce a landscape in bright green, red, blue and white.

The third business man is represented by Hans Kempinski, owner of Berlin's largest restaurant; Erich Goeritz, a Chemnitz stock-holding manufacturer, and Peter List, Saxon cloth industrialist.

Numerous Claims For Estate Filed

ADELAIDE, Australia, April 9.—Claims of more than 150 persons to a reputed fortune of $500,000,000 which is said to have been accumulating for 200 years, are being filed in court here.

The claimants assert Edward Webber, merchant prince of Holland in the days when the Dutch flag flew over a large part of the world's commercial fleets, died in what is now New York, leaving an eccentric will, bequeathing his estate to his seventh generation.

A meeting has been called of the claimants here to discuss the fortune.

SHEIK BILL HELD

OMAHA, Neb., April 9.—Judgments in breach of promise and alienation of affections suits may yet be legally limited to one cent in Nebraska. Senator Chambers author of the "sheik bill" that may be introduced, claims the measure would curb blackmail and "gold-digging" activities of designing women.

'PEACHES' WRITES SONG

NEW YORK, April 9.—"Peaches" apparently is trying tin pan alley as a revenue producer. Anyhow, she is credited with being the author of a song, "When Flaming Youth Marries Old Age." It will be sung in her vaudeville act, tears and years and all, not to make money, she says, but as an object lesson.

INCOMES INCREASE

CHICAGO, April 9.—Your grandchild should earn $11,000 a year if he is up to the average and present tendencies continue. A survey by the national home study council shows that national income is gaining at the rate of 5,400 million dollars a year.

BOBS BOTHER HIM

NEW YORK, April 9.—Sir Thomas Lipton is perplexed by modern coiffures. "When you accidentally jostle against a bobbed person," he explains, "you don't know whether to say, 'beg pardon, madame, or mister'."

Cork legs were named after their inventor, a Mr. Cork.

BAN MIXED DANCING

NEW YORK, April 9.—Boys dance with boys and girls with girls at an annual senior dance at Eastern high school. It has been so for 20 years. Annually a petition for mixed dancing has been denied.

The Dalai Lama, or ruler of Tibet, has imposed a tax based on the size of each subject's nose.

GOODE HAS MADE GOOD KEEP HIM ON THE JOB

Examine Goode's Record As Man Who Gets Results for the People of Santa Ana

City Trustee Stanley E. Goode, though in office for only fifteen months, has done much for the home people of Santa Ana. As the member of the council assigned to have detailed charge of the street department, Goode set forth to get the most good possible for the greatest number of people, getting the most out of every dollar in his department.

He put himself in the place of every resident of the city. He saw the SMALL NEEDS as well as the BIG THINGS.

That's why he has had the alleys of Santa Ana fixed up. Every alley was graded and gravelled and rolled. That has saved thousands of petty annoyances for thousands of residents of Santa Ana. THAT'S SERVICE. That's why he revamped the method of handling trash. It's a small matter, yes. But it makes a pile of difference to you and me. Now, when there's a pile of trash and tree trimming, etc., at your place, all you have to do is to call the city hall and the stuff is hauled away right away. THAT'S SERVICE. He has handled the city's business as though it were his own. THAT'S THE KIND OF A MAN WE WANT RIGHT WHERE GOODE NOW IS.

Keep Him

STANLEY E. GOODE

An Honest Man's Experience Is Worth Barrels of Money To the City that Has Him

Stanley E. Goode is an experienced man and he is HONEST.

Whatever enemies he has made as city councilman have been made because he has stood four-square against selfish interests. Examine his record. You will find that his vote has been backed by conscientious integrity, and for the best interests of the city. No public service corporation controls him, and they know it; he analyzes a proposition and votes for the best interests of the city.

Among those who know Stanley Goode, his fearlessness is proverbial. He stays by what he believes is right. He is not afraid to do his duty.

Here are a few facts concerning Stanley Goode:

He is a graduate of Stanford University.
He was manager and executive for the Whiting Ranch at El Toro for several years.
He successfully managed an automobile business in Santa Ana.
He is a successful business man.
In various organizations to which he belongs, he has been chosen to positions of responsibility and trust.
Before he was a city trustee, he gave of his time and energy unstintingly for the good of the city, and as City Trustee he has kept up his record in that line.

Goode Has Been Trustee Long Enough to Be Just Right for Extraordinary Service During Next Four Years

Goode's work in the street department has been of a high order. He has been on the Council only a short time, but in that time he has demonstrated his ability to quickly understand situations. Naturally he is a hard worker. He has shown good judgment in what he has done. He keeps his eye on the city's finances. An examination of the street funds and the way the money has been spent is proof of the high value of Goode as a Street Commissioner.

He knows where every dollar goes. There has been a lot of bunk talked in the present campaign about councilmen not knowing where the dollars are spent. That's all camouflage by which certain individuals hope to throw up a smoke screen and slip into office. When Goode took over the street department there was exactly $36,889.30 in that fund. On January 1, 1927, there was exactly $45,571.37 in the fund. While giving the city an efficient administration, the Street Commissioner was also saving money for city use.

SCHEDULE FOR LOCAL MUSIC WEEK OUTLINED

A definite schedule of programs for the celebration of national music week, May 1 to 7, in Santa Ana, was arranged yesterday by the local music week committee, Harry Hanson, chairman. All of the programs in the evening are to be held in the high school auditorium.

The program as outlined yesterday was as follows:

Monday evening—Santa Ana Boys' chorus and service club singers; Georgia Bell Walton, violinist; Lyle Roberts, clarinetist, soloists.

Tuesday evening—Santa Ana municipal band and Cantando club (male chorus); Everard Stovall, pianist, soloist.

Wednesday evening—All Spanish program, under direction of Sol Gonzales.

Thursday evening—Santa Ana symphony orchestra, Virginia
Flohr, soprano, soloist.

Friday evening—Santa Ana public schools, Robert Bradford, baritone, soloist.

Saturday evening—Combination program provided by musical organizations of Santa Ana.

Santa Ana theaters will augment their programs with special music week numbers.

Bruce Switzer has arranged for noon community singing at stores during the week.

D. C. Cianfoni, chairman of the program committee, will write a special music week number. Radio programs will be given in advance of the week to call attention to the plans for the week.

A brief talk concerning the purpose of the week and the value of music in the lives of citizens will be given at each evening program.

The following attended the meeting yesterday: Bruce E. Switzer, Leon Eckles, Jeanette E. McFadden, Frances Beeson, Ruth Andrews, E. D. Yost, H. E. Yost,
Harry L. Hanson, Robert P. Shafer,
Sol Gonzales, D. C. Cianfoni, E.
Merle Hussong.

ORANGE

ORANGE, April 9.—Mr. and Mrs.
Will N. Parsons and Mr. and Mrs.
Robert E. Walker, of West Orange, left at noon today for the mountains near Big Bear, where they plan to spend two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stearns, of
Imperial.

Construction activities were under way today on a new brick bungalow being erected by Frank S.
Paul at 351 South Parker street, following the granting of a permit for $3000 yesterday.

The Baker service station at North Glassell street and Maple avenue has installed a hydraulic auto hoist costing $700. This is the first auto hoist to be used in Orange and the second of its kind in the county.

AVOCADO OVER PRODUCTION CAUSES FRUIT TO BE SENT EAST IN REFRIGERATOR CARS

Avocados, or Calavos, the trade name, are being shipped east in quantity for the first time this year because of a crop of approximately 1,500,000 pounds more than the 1926 bumper crop of 500,000 pounds, it was learned today.

The fruit is being packed in freight refrigerator cars with a minimum of 26,000 pounds each. Approximately 80 cars will be packed in this year's crop, it was said. One large packing plant at Los Angeles, a smaller one at Azusa and one at Chula Vista, are handling the production of Southern California, according to William McPherson, of Orange, secretary of the California
Avocado association.

The great increase in production this year is attributed to the comparatively warm weather during the winter months, according to officials of the avocado industry. The avocado will stand about as much frost as citrus trees, and the frost is conceded not to have materially damaged the citrus crop.

Although between one-third and one-half the crop for 1927 will be shipped to eastern markets, it is generally believed that Los Angeles and San Francisco markets are the best. It is thought that this is because westerners have become familiar with the fruit, while easterners still regard it as an expensive luxury.

The greatest production of avocados in California at present is found in Orange county, according to surveys. There are 1000 acres of avocado groves in Orange county, of which about 300 acres are producing. The remainder is in young orchards. San Diego county, with about 1500 acres planted, bids fair to lead the state in production as soon as the younger orchards are old enough to produce. There are approximately 5000 acres in all planted in Southern California.

The great amount of available land in San Diego and Orange counties promises the establishment of an industry which will rival the orange industry in prominence. In this section, according to predictions made by those interested.

Build Packing Houses

To take care of the growth, several packing houses are being contemplated for the territory by the two organizations of avocado growers: the California Avocado association, an educational and informative organization, and the California Avocado Growers' Exchange, the marketing agent of the industry.
Two of these projected packing houses will be located in Orange county, it is thought. One, to cover the southern part of the county, will likely be situated at Tustin.
The site of the other, which will be for the production in the northern half of the county, has not been considered.

Producers are receiving between 20 and 35 cents per pound for fruit this year, according to growers.
With the great number of acres now planted, which will soon be bearing, and the additional number of acres yet to be planted, it is expected that soon the fruit will retail at a very reasonable price.

The best variety, a few or eight commercial varieties, according to local growers, is the Fuerte brand, said to be a hybrid between the Mexican small thin skinned variety and the Guatemalan large thick skinned specimen. The hybrid produces a fruit slightly under one pound in weight and combines the qualities of both parents in its make up.

Name Stamped on Fruit

The California Avocado Growers' Exchange organization is made up of nine districts, three of which are wholly or partially in Orange county. Each district elects a director to the board of the exchange.
The California Avocado association is made up of all avocado growers in the state and is not divided into districts. Five directors at large are elected.

exchange in the marketing of the fruit is the stamping of the word "Calavos" on the choice varieties packed for shipment, it is believed.

MARMON MAKERS IN BIG INCREASE

In both production and sales, Marmon this year is establishing one of the largest percentages of increase ever recorded in the industry, according to Frank Hammett, of the Marmon Sales and Service company, distributor.

He asserted that since January 1, nearly 200 new distributors and dealers have been added to the Marmon sales organization, and applications are being received at so rapid a rate that company officials believe the number of sales outlets will be double within the next 60 days.

PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, April 9.—Due to the rapidly increasing business at the Curtis garage on Chapman avenue, an addition is being constructed at the rear. It is of galvanized iron and is 48 feet wide by 50 feet long.

Mrs. Mary E. Hockstein has purchased a furnished 4-room house on Melrose street from Arthur J.
Jones. The consideration was $2500. The house is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hall.

S. P. Kraemer has sold four acres of land near Richfield to Fred Chrest for $8500. G. W.
Goodman has sold two lots on Chapman avenue to Charles G.
Kell. The consideration was $3000.
The deals were made by Mrs.
Nellie M. Cline, local realtor.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hurst are moving to make their home on property they have just purchased in a new subdivision south of Santa Ana.

Mrs. Marvin Lemon visited her husband on Tuesday at the Methodist hospital in Los Angeles, where he has been a patient for several months. Mr. Lemon is reported to be very seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stansbury had Mrs. Stansbury's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Tatro, of Redlands, visit them the first of the week. Mrs. O. W. Tatro is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Stansbury.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pepper had their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fewel, of Los Angeles, visit them on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Gains had Herbert Leuten and Charles Mc-Nulty, of Los Angeles, as guests this week. The two men are interested in the local oil fields.

Mrs. Cora Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Martin, of Los Angeles, were guests on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Barnhart of Melrose street.

THE LIFE OF CHRIST In the Garden of Gethsemane

SYNOPSIS ARRANGED BY DR. W. M. E. GILROY, D. D.
SKETCHES BY KROESSEN

Jesus and His disciples go to the Mount of Olives. He takes Peter, James and John into the Garden of Gethsemane. Christ goes off alone and prays in agony, "O, my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me! Nevertheless, not as I will, but as Thou wilt." (Matthew XXVI: 30-39)

"And there appeared an angel unto Him from heaven, strengthening Him." (Luke XX: 43)

"In agony, He prayed more earnestly; and His sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground." (Luke XXII: 44)

After the agonizing prayer, Jesus returns to find Peter, James and John asleep. He reproaches them saying, "What! Could ye not watch one hour?" (Matthew XXVI: 40-41)

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

So Mary journeyed on her way, and left her little lamb to play with all the happy Tinymites out on the school house lawn. The lamb just didn't think things right, as Mary disappeared from sight, but soon it started in to play, as long as she was gone.

The Tinymites raced around the place, and Mary's lamb joined in the race. It seemed to thoroughly enjoy just wildly running loose. They hugged and patted it a lot until it knew, as like as not, that they were very kind and thus would give it no abuse.

In 'bout three hours they heard a bell. The lamb ran to the school, pell mell. It knew that Mary'd soon be out, and my, but it was glad. When Mary came, the lamb was gay. It seemed as if 'twould like to say enough to tell Mary what a dandy time it had.

Said Mary, "Thanks for helping me. It's really hard as it can be when I take my lamb to school."

It makes the teacher mad. "You're welcome to what we've done," said Scouty, "it was really fun." Then Mary said, "I must go home." The Tinymites thought this sad.

Then, down the road she disappeared, and once again the bunch was cheered by hearing sounds of barking dogs just o'er a nearby hill. "Let's find them. We can have some fun," said Clowny. "Aw, come on, let's run." And, as quickly took a spill.

Soon, when they found the barking bunch, they tell me dogs will always bark when beggars come to town. Let's pat the dogs and treat them kind and very shortly we will find that they'll forget the beggars and will quickly quiet down."

FOOL-PROOF PRICE MARKS

By Olive Roberts Barton

London has banished the farthing or half-penny for keeps, it seems. Drapers, (we call them dry goods merchants) have long dangled the alluring bait of the ha-penny in front of their customers' noses, just as our own storekeepers have magnificently knocked off two cents from a fifty dollar price mark, to plant in the mind of the purchaser a figure far below what he is actually paying.

Forty-nine dollars and ninety-eight cents! Oh, foolish, gullible, barnacle minds that won't look past the drum-major figure of the first number to see the parade that follows! One ninety-eight, nineteen ninety-eight, forty-nine, ninety-eight! We do the spider and fly act more boldly than our English cousins.

Miss Ellen Wilkinson, member of parliament, says in her funeral oration on the farthing, "Modern woman is not led away by it; she is just impatient with its nonsense."

Is modern woman any less nose about a bargain than she was ten years ago? Or is a bargain less important? Or is it that a farthing off isn't considered a bargain?

One is inclined to believe that modern woman isn't so different as one might think. Just two days ago the writer, who believes herself to be wholly composed of ments, bought an article of adornment for thirty-nine dollars and ninety-five cents without in the least realizing that she had paid forty dollars for it until she got home. When she started out she limited herself to twenty-five, or any thirty dollars! In making the selection, articles of various prices were shown, many much higher than the amount she had fixed for spending. She was in a hurry—the figure "thirty" stayed in her mind and she took it. Had the figure "forty" been on the price tag, the lady of the first person singular would never have paid it in the world.

I believe congress would do a kind Christian act if it would pass a bill prohibiting any price mark to end between ninety cents and a dollar! Just to save us women! Fool proof price marks, so to speak.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

By ARTHUR N. PACK
President, American Nature Ass'n.

When a beaver decides to cut an aspen tree and store it away as part of his winter supply of food, he goes about the entire affair in a very business-like fashion and gets it over with in a surprisingly short time.

First, he selects a tree as near the water as possible. If the cutting in which he is working is a new one the tree may be at the very edge of the pond, but if necessary the beaver will go back 50 to 100 yards into the forest to find his favorite food.

He stands up on his hind feet and works around the tree, cutting out large chips with his strong teeth. A tree a foot in diameter does not bother him, once he makes up his mind he wants it.

Once the tree is down the beaver trims off all twigs and branches. The smaller of these he eats on the spot. The larger branches and the trunk he cuts into convenient sections and rafts out into the pond, where he sinks them and weighs them down with mud or stones.

When ice seals his pond he has the bark of the aspen logs for food.

Today's Anniversaries

1865—The war between the States was virtually ended with the surrender of Gen. Lee at Appomattox.

1874—Temperance forces in Cincinnati held a great anti-license demonstration.

1893—Andrew G. Magrath, who led the secession movement in South Carolina, died in Charleston, S. C. Born there, February 8, 1813.

1900—The new home of the Chinese Six Companies in San Francisco was opened with elaborate ceremonies.

1918—President Wilson created the National War Labor board.
1925—President Coolidge refused to reopen for Peru his arbitration of the Tacna-Arica boundary dispute.

Slang at first was the jargon deliberately adopted as a kind of secret language by certain classes, often criminals.

Books, Caramel Pie and How

"Come out of the kitchen for recreation," is the motto of most American women today. "I go into mine for relaxation and enjoyment," says Ruth Cross, authoress, whose latest book, "The Unknown Goddess," was so well received.

day at her desk, is to don a becoming apron, go into her colorful kitchen and mix a cake, put up some perfect fruit or plank a steak to perfection.

All Home-Makers
"Women are authors, artists, actresses, politicians and so on nowadays," says Miss Cross. "But they cannot get away from the fact that they all have a bit of the home-maker in them. Success in some branch of this art is bound to give them satisfaction."

Last fall, her friends insisted that Miss Cross enter her specialties in the Riverton, Conn., fair. She did. And walked away with more prizes than any other competitor.

Twisting Into Beauty

Twists and turns are in large degree responsible for the famed beauty of Sally Rand, of the movies.

By NINON
For NEA Service

By twists and turns does beauty come! But not just any twists and turns.

I have always maintained that exercises not scientifically planned to achieve certain results are little better than no exercises at all. They merely fag you without taking off a single ounce of overweight or stretching a single muscle that needs it.

Today the exercise shows how certain twists and turns stretch the lazy backbone, limber up the waistline and stimulate the liver that often needs jogging in the springtime.

Sit erect on the floor with feet stretched out straight in front of you. Throughout the exercise keep your legs flat on the floor. Raise arms at sides level with the shoulders and keeping them in a straight line, move the trunk around until the right hand points forward, the left backwards. Rotate, always keeping the arms at shoulder level.

Do you feel your backbone give, your waistline stretch? You should. No wobble on the liver. With the left arm stretched out behind, reach for the feet with the fingertips of the right hand. Reverse, holding the right arm out behind, reaching for the toes with the left. Repeat a dozen times, mornings and evenings, and you will notice the improvement.

Perhaps I stress music too much in these exercises. But they're all easier and more enjoyable if done with phonograph or radio accompaniment.

SUPERSTITION IS STRONG IN NAMING HORSES

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 8.—"What's in a name? That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet—" may be all right in some cases, but when it comes to naming horses turfdom disregard Shakespeare and hold "a good name is better than precious ointment."

Call a spade a spade, if you will, they say, but leave the naming of horses to those who know what they are doing. It may be a peculiar superstition of the track, but the fact remains.

Some fifteen years ago one owner, J. C. Cain, had the good luck to get hold of a horse that developed into a winner for a small stable. The horse was called Bitter Sir.

In the years following Cain tried similar names to obtain similar results and consequently there was a parade of horses with names beginning with "Bitter." Some were good and some were better.

But the nags won races! Probably one of the most unfortunate names to be used on the tracks is that of "Lady," turfdom say, "Lady" horses just seem naturally unlucky.

An unusually good name is "Pride," "Pride of Lismore" is the progenitor of many of the "Princes." He owned his keep and more on every track that felt his hoofbeats.

"Ocean" is another good name. "Duke" is not. Beginning with "Lucky" Baldwin's "Duke of Norfolk" classed by many as the worst get of all the "Emperor of Norfolk" blood down turf history the "Duke" horses seldom have been winners.

The World was produced a drove of "war" horses, but "Man O' War" is the only one to outgame what is regarded as a hoodoo name to the extent of becoming recognized in the truly great class. True, many of the "war" brood show promise, track followers say, and their records are being watched with added interest by the superstitious.

Social Leaders See Fights In Evening Dress

SACRAMENTO, April 8.—"Ladies and gentlemen! On my left is..."

A scholarly-looking announcer is speaking. He is clad in immaculate evening clothes. His audience is chiefly made up of women. Many are dressed in the height of fashion. No cloud—not even a wisp of tobacco smoke hovers over the ring. No "cuss words" punctuate the applause.

It is a Sacramento boxing match—probably the most unique of any held in the United States today.

Held in a splendid new million-dollar auditorium, the fights are attracting a high type of patronage—persons who seldom before attended boxing matches. To keep pace with the change, the announcer doffed his sweater and donned a "tux."

Probably the strictest rule is "no smoking allowed." When the battlers near a knockout and the excited fan reaches for a "tag" he catches the watchful eye of an usher, and "ditches" it. But when the fight is over and he gets outside and lights up, he murmurs, "Oh boy, what a grand and glorious feeling."

County Improvement No. 11 NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS
Pursuant to Statute and to Resolution No. 58 of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, State of California, adopted on the 7th day of April, 1927, directing this notice, the said Board of Supervisors hereby invites sealed proposals or bids for the improvement of Laguna Avenue, at Laguna Beach, in the said county, from the Southwestern line of that certain public highway commonly known as Coast Boulevard to a line 200.00 feet Southwesterly therefrom and parallel therewith, by the following described work, to-wit:
The grading and paving with a Portland Cement concrete pavement of certain portions of the above described Laguna Avenue, the construction of Portland Cement concrete curbs, sidewalks and steps on certain portions thereof, the construction of Portland Cement concrete pipe sewer connection therein and the installation therein of a steel water main and appurtenances for domestic purposes. All of the foregoing described work and improvement is fully set forth, delineated and described on the plans, cross-sections and other drawings, known as the plans for "County Improvement No. 11" and on file in the office of the County Surveyor of the said County, and as set forth in the specifications known as the specifications for "County Improvement No. 11" and on file in the office of the County Clerk of said County. The said plans, cross-sections, other drawings and specifications are hereby referred to for the full and detailed description of the said proposed work and improvement and are made a part hereof.

For further particulars reference is hereby made to Resolution of Intention No. 58 of the Board of Supervisors of said County, passed and adopted on the 22nd day of March, 1927, which said Resolution of Intention is hereby specifically referred to for a more particular description of the said contemplated work and of the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the said contemplated work and is hereby made a part hereof. The specifications for the said contemplated work are posted on or near the Chamber door of the said Board of Supervisors.

Said sealed proposals or bids shall be delivered to the Clerk of the said County at his office in the Court House, in the City of Santa Ana, on or before 11 o'clock A. M. on Tuesday, the 19th day of April, 1927; said time being not less than ten (10) days from the time of the first publication or posting of this Notice, on which day and hour all proposals or bids received will be publicly opened, examined and declared by the said Board of Supervisors.

All proposals or bids offered shall be accompanied by a check payable to the said County, certified by a responsible bank for an amount which shall not be less than ten (10) per cent of the aggregate of the proposal. Said check will be returned to the bidder, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify, before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double the said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions, or by an authorized solvent bond. Company to be approved by the said Board of Supervisors.

Dated this 7th day of April, 1927.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY TOWNS

ACREAGE NEAR SUNSET BEACH LEASED FOR OIL

SUNSET BEACH, April 9.—With the General Petroleum corporation drilling past 4000 feet in its Lomita No. 1 oil well near Sunset Beach, with no showings as far as can be ascertained, there is considerable leasing activity in that district by several large and small operators.

The largest single lease is reported to have been taken by a midwest combination called Hansen and Hopkins, who are reported to have acquired about 450 acres just east of the General Petroleum and Marland holdings, on the west end of the big Bolsa Chica club property. The Union Oil company has lined up about 50 acres west of the Lomita lease, and the California Petroleum corporation is said to have leased about 30 acres in the same area. The California Eastern Petroleum corporation has leased about five acres just inside the subdivided area of the town of Sunset Beach, it is said.

Sunday School In Westminster Is Reorganized

WESTMINSTER, April 9.—At a meeting of officers and teachers of the Presbyterian Sunday school Tuesday night, election of officers for the year was held, and important changes and divisions in the Sunday school classes discussed. The same officers who served in the past year were re-elected.

Consistent with the plan of grading the Sunday school, some of the pupils will be moved into different classes, and two new classes will be formed, no changes to be made until the first Sunday after Easter. There will be a beginner's department, the superintendent of which will be Mrs. Herman Thompson, and certain divisions were planned for the primary department, of which Mrs. R. A. Weld is superintendent. The grade roll department will be inaugurated, with Mrs. Ruth Penhall suggested as its head. The name of Mrs. L. E. Barry also was suggested for the superintendency of the junior department, which will hold its opening exercises in the church hall, but it is not known if either will accept these offices. Another important change will be in the time Sunday school will begin, making it 9:45 o'clock for the opening of the entire Sunday school, instead of 10 o'clock.

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, April 9.—Mrs. Jake Grana, of this place, was hostess at a birthday surprise party given Friday evening at the Anaheim home of her daughter, Mrs. George Stanley, the occasion honoring the natal day of her younger daughter, Miss Bessie Grana, who is a member of the Stanley household. A delightful affair resulted and those attending were the Misses Helen and Dorothy Dimock, Roy and Edward Dimock, Donald Woodington, Peter Grana and Mrs. Grana, of Smeltzer, and the Misses Ruby and Fay Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. George Stanley and daughter, and the honor guest, Miss Bessie Grana, of Anaheim.

Death has entered the family of William Phillips, of this place three times within the past two weeks. The family was first shocked by the death of Mr. Phillips' sister-in-law, Mrs. Maurice Phillips, of Santa Ana, next the sad passing of his niece's husband, Laurence Hurd, of Orange, which occurred the day of Mrs. Phillips' funeral, and the third shock came with a telegram from the Phillips' home, North Adams, Mass., announcing the death of a cousin the same day.

Mary Elizabeth Hill, of Hawthorne, is a visitor at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Wilfred Lewis, having come last Monday evening in company with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Hill, who spent the evening in the Lewis home.

Mrs. J. Hurst is leaving Monday for Fresno for a week's visit with her daughter, Miss Gladys Hurst, who attends college there. Mrs. Hurst is making the trip by motor in company with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hurst, of Los Angeles, who are on vacation from their schools.

Mrs. J. T. Worthy returned Thursday from a two week vacation which was spent at Long Beach in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Worthy, and at Willowbrook with her son-in-law and daughter, Prof. and Mrs. Boydon Hall.

Mrs. J. O. Pyle, who has been confined to her bed almost two weeks, was able to be about the house for the first time Thursday.

Mrs. Thelma Owings, who has been spending some time with relatives in Los Angeles, returned Thursday to the home of her uncle, M. E. Owings, of Smeltzer.

Mrs. W. W. Woodington and Mrs. Jake Grana visited Mrs. Woodington's sister-in-law, Mrs. E. R. Bradbury, Thursday at the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where she is a patient following a serious operation.

Earl Melvin and family, of Imperial, have been visitors for several days in the home of Mr. Melvin's brother, W. H. Melvin and family. Leaving Smeltzer, Mr. Melvin and family went to Westminster, where they are visiting other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Grana recently motored to Baldwin park, where they were guests of Mrs. Grana's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Obrediwich.

Fullerton To Clean New Airport

FULLERTON, April 9.—Citizens of Fullerton will gather at the municipal airport next Friday for a weed pulling contest. The clean-up has been postponed several times on account of rain. Lunch will be served, the clean-up being an all-day affair.

FULLERTON MAN'S CONDITION BETTER

FULLERTON, April 9.—The condition of Harold S. McGraw, injured in an automobile accident near Artesia late yesterday morning, was reported greatly improved today by attendants at the Artesia hospital.

McGraw, a prominent local citizen, was injured when his car collided with a machine driven by H. N. Leblanc, of Long Beach. Leblanc also was seriously injured. According to reports, both cars were traveling at a fast rate.

McGraw is reported to have received a basal fracture of the skull and to have sustained numerous cuts and bruises. The accident occurred at the intersection of Center and Bloomfield streets in Downey. His recovery was reported almost certain by Artesia hospital attendants today.

Mrs. McGraw, formerly Miss Wanda Jackson, is secretary at the Fullerton junior college, and is prominent in local educational circles. She is in Artesia with her husband.

Woman's Club Of Los Alamitos Names Officers

LOS ALAMITOS, April 9.—The regular meeting of the Woman's Improvement club was held on Wednesday afternoon in the clubhouse, with Mrs. George Watts presiding.

After the regular business had been transacted, club colors were discussed. It was decided to use blue and gold. The president appointed Mrs. Norton as delegate to the district convention, with Mrs. Bloomquist as alternate. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. E. J. Juskewicz; vice president, Mrs. E. L. Johns; secretary, Mrs. E. J. Jones; treasurer, Mrs. William McOmie; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Watts; parliamentary, Mrs. H. Condra.

Hostesses of the day were Mesdames, Tinkham, Barker and Rose.

Mrs. Guy B. Post Laguna Visitor

LAGUNA BEACH, April 9.—Mrs. Guy Bates Post, who, as Adele Ritchie, was one of America's most beloved stars, is a Laguna visitor. Mrs. Post, who has come to Laguna for a month's rest, has but recently returned from Australia and New Zealand, where she went with Mr. Post on his theatrical tour of the Antipodes. Mr. Post is at present in South Africa, but will go to London for the summer season, opening in a new play there.

Program Enjoyed At Los Alamitos

LOS ALAMITOS, April 9.—A box supper preceded the regular meeting of the Los Alamitos chamber of commerce, held on Wednesday evening in the administration building. Several reports were given by the directors. Mrs. C. A. Wachter directed a musical program of home talent.

The program was as follows: Piano solo, Veloris Wachter; reading, Emanuel Doss; song, Laura Green, accompanied by Veloris Wachter; reading, Selma Watkins; jazz song, Mildred Kain and Laura Green; reading, Mildred Kain; comedy sketch, Doss brothers.

World's Deepest Oil Well Tested

OLINDA, April 9.—The Chasler-Cantfield Midway Oil company is making another test of its Olinda No. 36, the deepest hole in the world, according to field reports. Bottom of the well is at 8046 feet, but the company found it necessary to cement the well at 715 feet to shut off a water formation at that point. Owing to the extreme depth of the hole it will be several days before a definite test can be completed.

Anaheim School Head Goes North

ANAHEIM, April 9.—Principal J. A. Claves of the Anaheim union high school and Mrs. Claves left early this morning by motor for Sacramento to attend the state convention of high school principals, which opens in the northern city, Monday.

The convention sessions will last until the following Friday and Mr. and Mrs. Claves plan to remain for the entire period returning to Anaheim next Saturday or Sunday.

SEAL BEACH TO PURCHASE NEW FIRE EQUIPMENT

SEAL BEACH, April 9.—Prices on fully-equipped fire engines were submitted by two companies and the purchase of new fire equipment was taken under advisement, at the trustees meeting this week. The ordinance on oil sumps and fire hazards was discussed but the city attorney asked for more time to complete the work.

Boulevard-stop changes were referred to the street superintendent and city engineer. President Diller of the Board of Trustees being ill, J. Johns presided. Monthly bills were allowed and a resolution to clean up weeds from all vacant lots south of the Coast Highway was passed.

Only one bid for city printing was received, and the work for the remainder of the fiscal year was awarded to A. W. Armstrong. When the Southern Counties Gas company siren at Seal Beach sounds at 9 p. m., it will be curfew for the young folks. This was unanimously decided by the council upon the submission of an offer from the gas company to sound the siren each night at its own expense. The gas company at the same time paid its annual franchise tax amounting to $197.67.

JUNIOR FARM CLUB BACKED BY CENTER

ORANGE, April 9.—Ranchers affiliated with the West Orange Farm center last night voted to sponsor a junior farm center or agricultural club among the young people of the community. Girls as well as boys who are interested in poultry, rabbits, vegetables, fruits, nurseries or kindred ranch activities are eligible for membership. It was pointed out by Ray Ellis, assistant farm advisor, who is supervisor of approximately 10 similar clubs throughout the county.

W. A. Dyer H. R. Howell and Ray Ellis were named on a committee to organize and foster the club. A meeting for all interested will be held in the near future, it was announced.

The remainder of the meeting was given over to H. E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor, who addressed the group regarding the survey of crop production costs completed recently.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, April 9.—All members of the Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce are urged to attend the regular monthly meeting on Monday noon, as important matters will be taken up. The recommendation of a member to serve on the board of directors of the Garden Grove sanitary district to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. F. Mills, will be brought up for consideration.

The local American Legion auxiliary will entertain the council with luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. hall on Tuesday. All auxiliary members are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Jackson entertained at a family dinner on Sunday. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Capps and daughter, Dorothy; Mr. and Mrs. C. Mester and Mrs. Emma Molality, of Los Angeles; Miss Virginia Cain, of Fullerton, and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson. In the afternoon they all motored to Lake Elsinore.

A 6 o'clock dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Harper, recently in honor of Dr. Peryl Magill and sister, Miss Julia, of Santa Ana, who will leave next month for Paris. Covers were laid for Dr. Magill, Miss Julia Magill, of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Cudland and two children, of Altadena; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Harper and daughter, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Harper and son, Miss Letty Harper and the host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Felberg and family, accompanied by Miss Clara Erickson, spent last week-end at Palm Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Gray entertained the following guests on Tuesday: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anderson and Miss James, of Belvedere Gardens; Mrs. F. Humphrey and daughters, Nellie, of San Pedro, and Mrs. Westcott, of Los Angeles.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wheeler on Thursday evening were Dr. and Mrs. S. B. Friend, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. David Meyer and son, David, of Santa Ana, and their guest, Miss Meyer, of Elton, S. D.

O. J. Mikelson, of Los Angeles, visited on Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Felberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lorey spent Monday with the latter's sister, Mrs. Fred Hull in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Moser entertained Mrs. Ermina Schaffer and Ray Taylor, of Long Beach, on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ellzey, of Brookhaven, Miss, arrived here this week and will spend several months at the home of her niece, Mrs. H. A. Thetford.

The following spent Thursday evening in Los Angeles: Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Beardsley and daughter, Miss Edna; Mrs. Lucy Wells, Mrs. C. B. Crosey, Mrs. Roy Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Killingsbeck and Mrs. Frank Bissitt.

Miss Mettie Chaffee went to Los Angeles Monday to attend a church meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walker Abbey, of Corona, are spending several days at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Violet.

TWO AVOCADO PLANTS MAY BE BUILT IN ORANGE COUNTY; EXCHANGE DELEGATES NAMED

LA HABRA, April 9.—Avocado growers of the fifth district of the California Avocado Growers' exchange, who met here yesterday, re-elected George C. Foley to the board of directors of the exchange. Although no other business was transacted, discussion of marketing and growing problems developed helpful suggestions to the various growers.

George C. Hodgkin, manager of the California Avocado Growers' exchange, with headquarters in Los Angeles, was present and spoke briefly on the crop now being packed, which is the largest crop in the history of the industry, consisting of over 1,500,000 pounds. According to Hodgkin, 90 per cent of the crop now being packed is going to eastern markets, while an average of 75 per cent of the entire year's crop will find eastern markets.

At present the avocado crop is at its peak, according to officials of the industry. One car a week is being shipped east. A force of 16 men is employed in the main packing plant in Los Angeles and a comparative number are engaged in caring for the crop in the Azusa and Chula Vista districts, where smaller packing plants are maintained.

With increase in acreage and the widening demand for avocados, more packing plants will have to be built, according to Hodgkin. Two of these are proposed for Orange county, one in the north part of the county and one in the south part.

C. V. Newman was elected to represent the fourth district on the board at a similar meeting of the fourth district growers held at the Marcy ranch near Santa Ana Thursday. Hodgkin also addressed the latter meeting.

INVITE CLUB HEAD TO SILVER ACRES

SILVER ACRES, April 9.—Mrs. W. W. Crozier, of Newport Beach, chairman of extension work and emblems of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Orange County, has been invited to speak at a meeting of the Silver Acres Woman's club. An invitation to this effect was extended at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Stella Farnsworth.

Hattie Patterson, who is soon to become a bride, was presented with a beautiful floor lamp for the new home.

Mrs. Ruby McDonald, Mrs. Pauline Patterson and Mrs. Minnie Black were honored with gifts. Two beautiful birthday cakes were presented in honor of Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Black, whose birthday anniversaries occur this month.

Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Inez Taylor, Mrs. Joe Davis, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Nellie Garcia, Mrs. Mary Richardson, Miss Josephine Mon and Mrs. Jones, of Boise.

Members present were Miss Hattie Patterson, Mrs. Gertrude Pysden, Mrs. Alice Hackman, Mrs. Pauline Patterson, Mrs. Lora Anderson, Mrs. Minnie Black, Mrs. Mary Howard, Mrs. Evalin Scofield, Mrs. Elizabeth Sargent, Mrs. Gladis Annin, Mrs. Annie Cunningham, Mrs. Mary Hess, Mrs. Hattie Patterson, Mrs. M. I. Howard, Mrs. Ruby McDonald, Mrs. Vada Berry, Mrs. Bonnie Mark, Mrs. Libbie Head, Mrs. Lydia Weidie, Mrs. Stella Farnsworth, Mrs. Elizabeth Wiley.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. I. Howard, with Mrs. Mary Howard assisting.

Hold Services For Blacksmith Of Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, April 9.—Funeral services for William Walthill, 77, retired blacksmith of this city, who passed away Thursday afternoon, were held this afternoon from the Alamitos Friends church. The Rev. Blaine G. Bronner, pastor of the Friends church, presided.

Walthill had been a resident of Garden Grove and vicinity for the past 33 years. His death came suddenly, following a short illness. He was visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Stella Thomas, of Garden Grove, at the time of his demise. Mrs. Thomas and the widow, Mrs. Martha Walthill, are the only near survivors.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, April 9.—Mrs. Frank L. King and Mrs. Mary Bell King spent Thursday with Mrs. William Skelley in Huntington Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hays enjoyed dinner Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. James Longstreth in Long Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Hays have their grandson, Herbert Jr., with them for a few days.

Mrs. Myrtle Montgomery, Miss Juanita Montgomery, Mrs. Hazel Hurd and Mrs. Mattie Smalley stopped Thursday in Long Beach.

Mrs. James R. Morgan visited Wednesday Mrs. R. G. Alford who is recuperating from a recent operation in the home of Mrs. John McMillan at Bolsa.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Rowe entertained guests Thursday, Mrs. George Milnes and Mrs. B. F. Bushnell, of Long Beach, and Asa Milner, of Sioux City, Iowa.

Mrs. I. W. Bould, Mrs. L. E. Barry, Mrs. H. B. Anderson and Mrs. Phillips attended the Elstede-fod in Fullerton Thursday. Virginia Anderson was heard in a vocal solo and the girls clubs of the Huntington Beach high school also participated in the recital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cozad have guests from Kansas, who came by motor, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Utter, friends of the Cozads of many years ago, when they were residents there.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Clough are driving a new coupe.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Chamberlain were Mr. and Mrs. James Suffran and children, Mrs. Frank Reader, of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. C. Collins, of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin, of San Pedro. Mrs. Chamberlain was displaying a hen egg from her poultry yard today which weighed one quarter of a pound and measured 9 inches in length and 7-1/4 inches around.

M. Terhune is ill at his home on Westminster avenue.

OLIVE TILE PLANT DAMAGED BY FIRE

ORANGE, April 9.—Damaged to the extent of $2500 by fire yesterday, the Padre Tile company plant at Olive, owned by A. E. Koepel, local attorney, was today being prepared for repairs. The loss, which was partially covered by insurance, took place in the drying room, and is believed to have been a result of spontaneous combustion.

Workmen and neighbors attempted to hold the blaze under control until the Orange fire department could be called to the scene.

That the entire plant did not burn was attributed to the work of A. L. Tomblin, local fire chief, and his corps of workers, by Koepel.

Methodist Pastor Addresses Lions Of Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, April 9.—An address, given by the Rev. J. M. Ocheltree, pastor of the local Methodist Episcopal church, was the main feature of the Lions club luncheon on Wednesday. The Rev. Ocheltree spoke on the rapid advancement made during the past few years in all branches of the business and industrial world and the many problems with which the men and women of the business world of today are confronted on account of the numerous changes that have taken place.

The following were appointed to head the various league teams of the club in the attendance campaign: Dick Haster, Jack Crill, Gill Thayne and John Hayhurst.

A report on the Lions meeting at San Clemente Sunday was given by W. B. Merchant. The following attended from here: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schmid, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crill, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wheeler and Vernon King and family.

The program for next week will be in charge of C. B. Henry and Tom Devine.

School Play for Library Success

WESTMINSTER, April 9.—The school children were rejoicing Friday morning over the success of their play given Thursday night for the benefit of the proposed new library for Westminster. Every seat in the auditorium was taken and people were standing in the rear and sides. Proceeds amounted to $50.50 from which only $5.50 had to be taken for expenses, the balance, $45, being handed over to the treasurer of the library association Friday morning.

Much praise is due Mrs. Mary H. Thomason, director. She was assisted by Mrs. Marie Hare and Mrs. D. D. Campbell.

Shirley Day, depicting the Spider Woman, won the admiration of everyone in the audience by the way she threw her whole self into her part. She is the daughter of O. J. Day, merchant, and a pupil in the eighth grade.

SILVER ACRES

SILVER ACRES, April 9.—Robert Sargeant, of Claremont, visited last week in this vicinity, where he was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sargeant, and his sister, Mrs. Gertrude Pysden.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tarleton, formerly of this place but now living in Gardena, was a caller at the John Berry home on last Sunday. Mr. Tarleton is in the plumbing business in Gardena now, while Mrs. Tarleton has employment in the city library.

Mrs. Stella Farnsworth was a delegate from the Garden Grove Woman's Civic club to the convention held on last Tuesday in Placentia.

Mrs. Frank Annin and children plan spending next week with Mrs. Annin's parents in Fallbrook.

Aaron Wilcox received word on Saturday of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Laura Wilcox, in Glendale.

Mrs. George Hickman is in Elsinore this week, a guest of her son-in-law and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Morgan.

Ethel Austin, Cecil Austin and Albert Trudeau motored recently to Fontana where they visited the W. J. Wodkin family.

P-T. A. LEADER URGES CLASSES FOR MEXICANS

WESTMINSTER, April 9.—An interesting meeting of the P-T. A. was held Wednesday afternoon at the school, when Mrs. Florence Summers, Americanization chairman, spoke before the women of the organization.

Mrs. Summers told her survey of the Mexican population here, which she said was the largest in Orange county. Her visit on March 23, was made with a view toward the establishment of an Americanization center in Westminster for the Mexican people, she said. She secured the signatures of 31 of these people, who were very anxious to learn hygiene and the American language, sewing and other things, while only 20 names were necessary. She said a class could be held evenings for the men if they became sufficiently interested. Each high school district is empowered to establish this center, with the securing of the necessary names, and will have the aid of the state in maintaining teachers, etc., the district to furnish the building and supplies. She urged each of the women to see the trustees of the high school district and ask for their cooperation in the establishment of classes here. She explained the far-reaching effects of such an education among these people, who know so little about the care of children and homes, and her remarks were corroborated by Mrs. D. D. Campbell and Miss Jessie McCoy, teacher in the local school.

Mrs. Summers has a hobby, that of a permanent place for the historical relics of Orange county, and asked Mrs. Floyd Morris to appoint some one from each organization here to attend a meeting to be held May 7 in the county park for the purpose of stimulating interest in the preservation of these relics, in a museum the P-T. A. plans to build for their housing. Inasmuch as Westminster has a Pioneer society, many old treasures might be forthcoming for this museum, and Mrs. Summers asked that any interested write to her at Fullerton, and she would put them on the program for a short talk at this meeting in May. At any rate, any one who possesses a relic of the early days of Orange county, is urged to get into communication with Mrs. Summers.

At the next meeting of the P-T. A., election of officers will be held, and as Mrs. Floyd Morris, under the laws of the organization, cannot serve as president again, it will be necessary to find another president. Mrs. Fred Basse, Mrs. C. B. McCall and Mrs. Alice Hare were named on the nominating committee.

Conventions and Mountains Call Orange Teachers

ORANGE, April 9.—Conventions and the mountains are scheduled to attract many school teachers during the spring vacation of Orange schools, starting today. The high school principals' convention in Sacramento, the California Scholarship federation meeting at Fresno, and a meeting of the State Council of Teachers in San Francisco are proving mecca for many of the pedagogues.

Yosemite seems to be the favored mountain resort. Some of the instructors of the union high school, who will attend the various meetings and who will go to the mountains, are as follows: F. A. Henderson, San Francisco and Sacramento; Stewart N. White, Ventura; M. Fishback, Fresno and Sacramento; Stewart N. White, Ventura; Miss Meta Walton, Fresno and Yosemite; Miss Fern Sumner, Strawberry Flats; Miss Pauline Snodgrass, Redlands university; Miss Ethel V. Walker, Monterey, to visit with Lieutenant and Mrs. Charles H. Schwartz, U. S. Cavalry; Miss Galsimina Brown, Yosemite; Miss Nellie Kline, Yosemite; Miss Hattie Nobs, Redwood City; Miss Margaret Scott, Yosemite, and Miss Florence Moreland, Yosemite.

Earl Lyon, high school student, who is student president of the State Scholarship federation, will attend the Fresno meeting.

MEXICAN WOMEN ORGANIZE P-T. A.

ANAHEIM, April 9.—Anaheim Mexican women, parents of children in the La Palma street school, have been organized into a Parent-Teacher association, the first of its kind ever formed here.

This unique departure was instituted by Mrs. Homer W. Lewis, prominent local Americanization worker, assisted by other Americanization workers representing the various Parent-Teacher associations of the city.

At the organization meeting of the new P-T. A. group, held in the La Palma grammar school, M. P. Andrade gave a talk stressing the need of regular school attendance and plans were laid for the formation of a school orchestra.

ATTENTION VOTERS OF SANTA ANA

Costa Mesa, Paularino and Newport Beach are a part of the Santa Ana High School District and represent more than 20% of the assessed valuation of said district.

They pay more than twice as much per student as the city of Santa Ana for High School education, and at present without representation.

Costa Mesa, Paularino and Newport Beach have nominated and are supporting Chas. W. TeWinkle, candidate for member of the Santa Ana Board of Education.

Thy sum of duty let two words contain,

CAREFULLY, CONSCIENTIOUSLY

During the city campaign now drawing to a close, The Register has purposely refrained from iteration and reiteration of its views with respect to the probable and desirable results of the election to be held next Monday.

These views have been very simple and straightforward. They have been and are to the effect that voters should be given every opportunity to study and know the various candidates, and that they should avail themselves of that opportunity, and then go to the polls and vote their sincere and intelligent convictions.

The Register has believed, and it believes now,—and desires to say a last word to that effect,—that voters should not give their support to any man for any office on any other ground or for any other reason than that the man voted for is, in the opinion of the voter, the very best qualified candidate, in every way, for the office to which he aspires.

No man should be voted for merely for the reason that he is a good fellow, or that he is your neighbor, or your church or lodge brother, or that you like him personally better than you do his opponent, or for any other such purely personal reason.

On the other hand no voter should vote against any man merely because he doesn't like him personally or because he doesn't like his politics or his religion.

The only question before the community, as it rises to vote next Monday, should be, and in fact will be,—Which of the various candidates for the various offices are best qualified for the positions to which they aspire?

And voters who haven't already done so owe it as a solemn duty to themselves and to the various candidates and to the community in which they live to find out for themselves something about the education, training and experience, and the characteristic and temperamental qualifications of the various candidates among whom they will have to choose.

All voting should be done carefully, conscientiously, and to a large extent impersonally. Above all it should be done intelligently with respect to a knowledge of for whom and for what we are voting.

CLOSER TO THE EAST

Santa Ana is much closer to New York than it used to be. This fact is given emphasis by the announcement of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce of its plan to send 1000 air mail cards to the east on April 17, the first anniversary of the institution of direct air mail services between Southern California and points east of the Rockies.

Contrast conditions, as to speed of communication, today with what they were in the '50's and '60's. Now, wires and the air are the swift mediums of communication. Then, it was the slow stage coach or messenger on horseback. We have minutes and hours balanced against weeks and months.

Air mail still is somewhat a novelty with many users of the mail. Slowly the opportunities offered by it are becoming understood. It took quite awhile for the special delivery system of the post office to advance into every day use. The use of air mail is going ahead far more rapidly than did the use of the special delivery system. The recent enactment of a uniform rate for air mail—10 cents for each half-ounce of mail to any point in the country—has gone a long way toward popularizing the use of the air mail.

FORESTRY IN TENNESSEE

Reclamation work started by the Tennessee division of forestry in 1914 has resulted in the utilization of a large area of formerly waste farm land for black locust trees. Gullies, weed lots and outlying grass fields are set out to young trees. Country forestry associations are being formed throughout the state to crystallize as far as possible the interests of farm people in the foresting of their particular sections. A text book of forestry has been introduced in the public schools. Tennessee's timber and forest products have increased in the last 20 years from $21,000,000 to more than $35,000,000, and educational work is still going on.

All this is apropos of American Forest Week, proclaimed by President Coolidge for observance from April 24 to 30.

There cannot be too much of such reclamation work in any part of the country. More publicity about what any state or community is already doing in this line should be beneficial to all the rest of the country.

IGNORANCE PREFERRED

When the producing company of that much-debated play, "Sex," went on trial the other day in New York, charged with conducting a public nuisance, "none who had seen the play was admissible as juror."

Isn't that a curious thing, when you look at it not with a legal mind, but with a mind geared to ordinary common sense?

From the practical point of view, anyone would suppose that a person who had seen the play for himself, as one of an impartial audience, would be better able to decide whether it was a "public nuisance" or a legitimate drama than if he had to depend entirely on the statements of prejudiced witnesses, to the accompaniment of quarrelling lawyers.

The jury box is the only place in American life where we put a premium on ignorance.

CRIME DOESN'T PAY

Fifteen years ago Jesse Sharp, "lifer," escaped from the Ohio penitentiary. The other day, old and broken, he came back voluntarily.

The strain of evading police, of fearing constantly that he would be caught, was too great, he said. It ruined his health and prevented him from getting any enjoyment out of his freedom. So he came back.

A law-breaker pays for his crime in more ways than one. This man found out that a man's own conscience, coupled with fear, can punish him more sharply than any man-made prison.

Crime may be more popular in some spots than it used to be, but it doesn't pay any more now than it ever did.

A TRAGIC JOKE

Some of the good people of Los Angeles having conceived the idea that it would be a good advertisement for that city should the Olympic games in 1932 be held there, a move to that end is on foot.

First and foremost, of course, comes the question of money, for it would require money in no inconsiderable sum successfully to put over such an ambitious program.

The money problem, however, from the viewpoint of the Los Angeles boosters, is one of easy solution. It can be had in any amount needed simply by voting bonds, not by Los Angeles city alone, or by the very prosperous county of which it is the county seat, but by the entire state of California. So it is that, as a preliminary step, the state legislature is asked to have a million dollar bonding proposition submitted to the voters of California.

The majority of the voters of this great state, it is altogether probable, would not vote bonds in any such amount, or in any approximate amount, even were it possible, by means of so doing, to secure for Los Angeles the Marathon races as presented by the original cast, with the burning of Rome, with Nero in his great musical specialties, as a sort of afterpiece. One million dollars in bonds to be voted by the state in order that Los Angeles may stage a great athletic carnival lasting one week!

Were it not that the proposal borders so closely on the tragic, it would rank as one of the best jokes of the day.

Vice President Dawes is said to be getting ready to talk all summer about how the Senate talked all winter.

The Junior College

Oakland Tribune

The most outstanding advance in Western education during the year, in the opinion of President Ray Lyman Wilbur, President of Leland Stanford University, has been the rapid development of junior colleges in California.

Some thirty junior colleges, with about six thousand students in attendance, have been provided by the state to care for the demands of an expanding population and to offset the inability of the colleges and universities of the state to provide for all of the prepared applicants seeking admission.

Stanford some years ago, was forced to limit the number of students accepted in its lower division, which corresponds with the junior college. Harvard, Yale and other eastern colleges have done the same and a result—without some remedial action—would be to deprive students of the chance to pursue college courses. Says Dr. Wilbur in his latest annual report to the Stanford trustees:

"It is evident that the elementary work now given in the first two years of the American college will have to be cared for outside of university circles if American universities are to reach their full possibilities in the training of men and women for the needs of our civilization. The American college, as at present organized upon the basis of a four-year curriculum, has shown itself to be inadequate as a place for that training which is required by those educated for the professions, including the profession of business."

While it would seem the university is drawing farther away from the youth who has finished high school, it is really, with the junior colleges, going to a larger number of young people. Thirty junior colleges offer university opportunities to many who, because of their proximity, can accept the advantages. After two years of junior college, equivalent to the first in the university, a process of selection will have worked which shall determine those qualified and interested in higher studies.

SUGAR IS FOOD THAT GIVES BODY FUEL

No single food substance contains everything that is essential to the human diet. Dr. Alfonso E. Taylor is authority for the statement that a quart of milk and 400 calories consisting of fresh fruit and green vegetables, containing together 1000 calories, will supply all the desirable factors of the diet for one person for one day. Actually most of us eat about 2600 calories per day, which supplies the needs of the body, including energy necessary for physical work.

Food taken into the body may be divided into two groups, the first of which contributes to the body growth and repair, and the second of which supplies fuel. Sugar is the chief fuel food. The average amount of sugar taken in the United States is 100 pounds per person each year, so that sugar represents about 19 per cent of the fuel substance that each person uses.

If sugars or sweetened substances are taken previous to a meal they tend to take away the appetite for other substances. Therefore it is undesirable to eat candy or pastries between meals, whereas taken as a dessert they have the particular value of making a meal seem especially satisfactory. It is reported that over a billion dollars was spent for candy in the United States in 1925.

The contrast in the sugar intake is emphasized by the fact that the average consumption per person per year was 11 pounds in 1825, as compared with 107 pounds in 1925. Although a person may live on a diet that is largely vegetables, there is no combination of vegetables that will furnish enough protein to the body without giving too much carbohydrates or sugars, and without throwing special burdens on the digestive organs for the handling of these substances when these organs are not endowed by nature with the equipment to handle a one-sided diet. It should be remembered also that the protein needs of children are greater than those of adults, since they grow more rapidly and are far more active.

Due for His Annual Clean-Up

Think For Yourself

Ralph Waldo Emerson

What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and meanness. It is harder, because you will always find those who think they know what is your duty better than you know it. It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.

A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds, adored by little statesmen and philosophers and divines. With consistency a great soul has simply nothing to do. He may as well concern himself with his shadow on the wall. Speak what you think now in hard words, and tomorrow speak what tomorrow thinks in hard words again, though it contradict everything you said today. "Ah, you shall be sure to be misunderstood!"

Is it so bad, then, to be misunderstood? Pythagoras was misunderstood, and Socrates, and Jesus, and Luther, and Copernicus, and Galileo, and Newton, and every pure and wise spirit that ever took flesh. To be great is to be misunderstood.

Mrs. E. B. Norman, J. M. McCain and Superintendent of City Schools J. A. Granston, were appointed to arrange a program for the laying of the cornerstone of the new polytechnic high school which will take place April 26 or May 3.

R. J. Hamilton, secretary of the Orange county Y. M. C. A., Charles Robinson, president of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., and Malcolm Tedford and Martin Warren left for Fresno to attend the annual state Y. M. C. A. convention.

The first formal initiation of Boy Scouts of America under the Santa Ana council was held at the First Methodist Episcopal church with five patrols represented with a total of 25 boys. The boys to be initiated included Gay York, Darwin York, Robert Boyd, Edward Burns, Robert Anderson, Cecil Moon, Joe Placencia, Perry Thomas, Donald Anderson, Jamie Anderson, Leland Thurston, Ernest Thurston, Richard Sweet, George Hasenager Maxwell Jayne, John Wehrly, Roy Edwards, Earl Graninger, Bronson Barber, Glenn Potter, Floyd Honadell and Romaine Camfield.

Resources of the First National bank of Santa Ana were $2,575,123.42, according to a report filed by C. S. Crookshank, cashier, and attested by C. E. Parker, A. Getty, and A. J. Crookshank, directors.

ON THE SIDE LINES

Which May or May Not Be in Accord With the Views of The Register

By Horace McPhee

THE GAME OF GRAB—The state legislature has turned down and defeated the most recent attempt on the part of Los Angeles to grab everything in sight which it thinks might be used to advantage for the benefit of the Angel City.

This was the proposition to so amend the law of "eminent domain" as to make it legally possible for the Los Angeles City Water and Power bureau to condemn and appropriate water rights already in use for the benefit of other communities. The entire water rights of one of the great power companies were threatened by the proposed legislation, and, if it could be carried out, no community could feel sure of retaining undisturbed possession of its water system, in case the political "powers that be" of Los Angeles felt that they could use it to advantage.

In case the proposed grab, on the part of Los Angeles, of the water rights of the Southern Sierras Power company had succeeded it is fair to assume that the Great Bear Valley dam and its water system probably would be next, for Los Angeles "plays no favorites," save and except her own selfish interests.

PLENTY OF ONIONS—Granting that the growers of the Coachella valley "know their onions"—and it is believed they do,—the onion crop of that portion of Southern California's great inland empire is going to bring in a lot of money this year.

Nearly three quarters of a million onion crates have already been ordered by the growers for shipping the crop, and as the crates cost 27 cents each, this means a not unconsiderable expense for crates alone.

But the growers are expectant of a price of not less than $1.50 a crate, and at this rate the crates already bought will bring the growers over a million dollars when filled with onions and marketed.

The growers believe that this will easily be accomplished, as the crop is the best recently produced, with a much larger acreage than usual.

A REAL DANGER—Without desiring to pose as an alarmist, this column would call public attention to the possibility of much damage being done throughout the country unless a means is promptly found to successfully combat white ants.

These pests did much damage to buildings in Pasadena last year, and recent reports are that they are now found all over the city. Up to this time little progress has been made in finding a way to destroy them.

The fine building occupied by the public library at Redlands was infested with the termites, and every citizen and property owner throughout the country would do well to be on the watch for what is unquestionably a real danger.

A FAR-FETCHED CRITICISM—One of the best weekly newspapers in Southern California, or in the state, is the Home News.

Editor King, however, seems to have difficulty in forgetting that he is a Democrat, and as a Democratic editor he deems it his duty to damn the present administration with faint praise.

Along this line, he claims that President Coolidge "has permitted Secretary Mellon to have his own way in financial affairs."

Well, Secretary Mellon's "way" seems to be all right, so far as the general prosperity of the country is concerned, and the president would seem to be deserving of praise instead of censure for keeping a competent man on the job.

MUST TAKE THEIR CHANCE—By the way, the state legislature, in its wisdom, has just decided that dogs may continue to ride on the running boards of automobiles without a special cage being provided for their use and occupancy.

A bill which passed the assembly made it mandatory to provide a special framework or cage on all automobiles which carried dogs, but the senate committee, before which the bill came, tabled the bill, being presumably of the opinion that dogs—that is to say, the ordinary or garden variety of dogs—are no better than any one else.

LOOKS VERY BAD—Speaking of alarming news from Shanghai, here is an item, recently published by the Los Angeles Express, which would seem to indicate that the situation is indeed alarming:

"Among them was Miss Annie E. Moffett of Fort Sheridan, Ill., who tonight indicated that the situation had been shot twice through the body."

SOUNDS LIKE IT—Notice that one of the bills which has passed both houses of the state legislature, and been duly signed by the governor, is senate bill No. 243, exempting swine from the provisions of the Trespass Act.

This column is not fully informed as to the purpose of this bill, but from its title one might conclude that it is another of those bills gotten up in the interest of Los Angeles.

EVERYTHING GOES—One thing established by the Sapiro-Ford libel trial most certainly is that Mr. Sapiro could give Henry Ford instruction in the art of collecting fees if in nothing else.

Some who are inclined to be captious might hold that Mr. Sapiro's collection of fees in the case of certain sums of money loaned by this government to co-operative organizations was rather crowding the mourners; but then it seems to be an established principle that, in business, whatever is, is right.

USES NO ANAESTHETIC—Mr. Sapiro may, if he chooses, call it co-operation, but, really, some of those "commission" stunts he pulled off at the expense of various growers' associations would seem to be better described without the use of any prefix whatever. Why not refer to them as just plain "operations"—major one, at that?

WEATHER PROBABILITIES—As a rule the rainy season for Southern California is considered over, once April has arrived, but as all signs fail in dry years, so do they in wet.

And look what April brought to us in the way of rainfall last season. More rain came in April, if the writer's memory is not at fault, than during any other month of the year.

The "weather probabilities" of any of our winter or spring months may, as a matter of fact, be correctly summed up in the statement: "This is a rainy month if it rains."

GETTING TO BE A HABIT—In a prominent position on its Southern Counties of California news page the Los Angeles Times of April 2nd was published an exclusive news item from Winnipeg.

This would really seem to be exceeding the speed limit in the way of reaching out for, and taking in, additional territory.

A CURRY SEES IT—Chas. F. Curry, who is himself a member of congress, and is, therefore, in a position to know whereof he speaks, makes reference to the United States senate thus:

"The United States senate is an old woman's sewing circle, and it just has to chew the rag until it gets lint all over its tongue."

The Party

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS.

"JOAN, what is a party?" I asked. Joan looked at me in a surprised way as though she thought it a silly question and then obligingly explained. "Why it's fun. You play and march and have prizes. Everybody laughs—and who's party-it gets presents. Everybody has fun—and Ice Cream!" Why, of course, that's what a party is, Fun and Ice Cream. Yet so many children's parties are so elaborately planned and so carefully supervised by "Don't" and social restrictions that really they aren't children's parties at all but fashioned after grown-up ideas.

When you want a happy party for your child have a simple one with as few restrictions as possible, with as little grown-up interference as is practical, and the children will make the party.

JULIA ANNABETH MCCORKLE had her seventh birthday party With invitations pink and white which read, "From two to four," But we couldn't wear our play clothes for our mothers were invited With some aunts and some uncles and perhaps a dozen more. So we had it in the parlor with a butler at the door.

The dining room was gorgeous trimmed with paper frills and flowers. There was birthday cake and favors and great candles lit with care: But we had to eat politely and we couldn't hardly giggle For the uncles and the aunts and the mother-folk were there, With a serving maid a-snooping 'round about behind each chair!

We had games and lots of prizes, but the grown-ups kept exclaiming, "Not like that!" "Here, let me show you," "No it does it best this way!" And we couldn't run or tussle 'cause one can't do that at parties. Then the grown-ups called, "We're going now, remember what you say!"
